Building Materials

We carry the best in the market,

but we don't carry it very long at a time, because it seems to us that very nearly everybody that is building wants our materials.

It makes us hustle to keep a sufficient supply on hand to meet the great demand there is for these necessary materials.

The leading producing companies sold a large amount of copper in June for delivery through July, August and September, and some for still later shipment. They are not worrying over the situation, and it seems to be their unanimous belief that a new buying movement of large proportions must soon develop similar to those which occurred in June and in April. They are waiting for this demand and refusing to offer down prices."

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Manning were down from Sonoita today on a business trip.

County Ranger G. Lou Stevens, James H. Reagan and H. H. McCutchan motored to Nogales today to transact business.

A dance will be held at McCutchan's hall next Friday night, August 6. Good music and a good time is promised.

County Officers at Tax Conference

Supervisors J. S. Gatlin and George H. Fiedler, Mrs. Lula Reddoch Wood, clerk of the board of supervisors, and Victor J. Wager, county assessor, were in attendance this week at the state tax conference in Flagstaff.

Letter From Prof. Morse

To the Farmers of Santa Cruz and Cochise counties:

It is necessary, if you desire to receive during the next fiscal year, ending June 30, 1916, the special services of a county farm advisor, that you take immediate and decisive action. On account of the necessity of spreading the funds for agricultural extension work over the entire state, we are unable to put a large amount in any one section, and hence we have found it necessary, as is the custom in all other states of the union, to require the county receiving the funds to help bear the expense of this work. I therefore am compelled to notify you that we shall be obliged to drop the work of the county farm advisor in Santa Cruz county on August 1, unless sufficient appropriation is made, either by the county supervisors or by private subscriptions, to carry on the work for the next fiscal year.

I am informed that at the last regular meeting of the county board of supervisors of Santa Cruz county it was decided that no money would be appropriated for a county farm advisor, it being considered better to use the money for constructing the roads. In this connection, I might call your attention to the fact that good roads will not be of much value to the farmers unless they have some products to haul over them. In the second place, the amount of money required for carrying on this work is absurdly small, only four or five hundred dollars being required. It will be of interest to you to learn that the board of supervisors of Cochise county has appropriated $1,000 to help defray the expenses of the county farm advisor for the next fiscal year and that the work will be carried on in Cochise county whether Santa Cruz county furnishes its share or not.

I also understand that some have got the idea that an agricultural experiment station is to be established in Santa Cruz county. In this connection I will state that there are absolutely no funds for this purpose. Hence, if lack of funds compels us to drop the farm advisor work in Santa Cruz county, the only service that we shall be able to render you will be through our two traveling agricultural specialists, who, however, have to cover the whole state. The thing for you to do, if you desire the county farm advisor work to go on, is to impress upon the county supervi-

Bridge Needed Across Sonoita

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Purdum and little son, and Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Purdum's mother, motored down from Elgin Friday on their way to their home in Nogales. They were unable to cross the Sonoita creek and enjoyed the warm hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Northcraft. Mr. Purdum drove the car across the stream Saturday morning and the trip was continued.

Tepary Beans to Be Staple Product

The following is from a letter sent by Prof. Stanley F. Morse of the College of Agriculture, University of Arizona, to secretaries of local farm improvement associations and other farmers' organizations:

I believe that it would be wise for the farmers of Arizona to plant a larger acreage to tepary beans than was at first planned. I have just returned from California and find that enough tepary beans have already been planted there to produce from 25 to 50 carloads, and possibly more. This means that the buyers will be attracted by being able to secure a quantity of this bean and that the tepary will probably have a recognized place on the bean market this year. In addition, the continuance of the war is increasing the demand for staple foodstuffs, and you will be interested to learn that I have already received an inquiry from a New York exporting firm asking how many carloads of teparies we are going to be able to ship this fall. For this reason I believe that it will be safe to plant a large acreage to tepary beans in Arizona, and I would suggest that in every community each farmer put in an additional five acres.

County Rangers Lou Stevens and Henry Woods, with former Ranger Marshall McDonnell, were Nogales visitors the early part of the week, going down to help protect the border in case of invasion. Dr. A. W. Hartmeyer heard what he took to be three-inch guns and went down to the border on the Monday evening train to see the engagement.

ors that you desire an appropriation for this purpose.

Assuring you of our desire to always give you the best of service, I am Yours truly,
S. F. MORSE,
Superintendent and State Leader
Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Arizona.
