OBREGON IS MENACED BY THREATS OF HIS ENEMIES

MEXICO CITY, May 18--Beware of the fate of Francisco Madero who failed to heed the solicitations to change his policy and fell...

MORE FLOWERS NEEDED We know of no section of the country where flowers grow and bloom with greater brilliancy than right here in Patagonia...

Messrs. Bethell and Henderson viewed the county road passing through the Fortune and Young ranches, and their report is now before the supervisors.

C. A. Pierce returns the first of the week from a business trip to Mexico.

Geo. W. Curtiss of San Rafael Valley was here on business yesterday and marketed a lot of eggs and bought among other articles, an eighty dollar saddle.

James Foley, who has been "rusticating" at the Smith-May ranch at Crittenden, and who has for some time been "under the weather," is reported rapidly improving and will soon be at home to his Patagonian friends.

The tale of the speeder: I. Rash. II. Daab. III. Smash.

J. Kent Fryor, former manager of the Commercial hotel of Patagonia, informs us that he will open a cafe in the Amado building on the north side of the railroad track, on or about June 1st.

In today's Patagonian will be found the advertisement of the Patagonia Garage which was recently opened by Mr. Rumenapp, who has had over 20 years experience in the business.

Road work in this end of the county is reported to be progressing nicely, the weather for this kind of work being ideal.

We are told that there are a few families in Patagonia who are unable to get work and as a consequence are in needy circumstances. These cases ought to be investigated and if found true they ought to receive help.

OTIS J. BAUGHN MAY BE MADE FEDERAL JUDGE

PHOENIX, May 19--A new rumor springing to life out at the capital connects the name of Judge Otis J. Baughn with the appointment of a judge for the newly created second and Arizona district of the United States district court.

Judge Baughn, who is now serving his second term as judge of the superior court of Pinal county, appears to have the necessary ingredients of acceptable timber for the federal judgeship. He is known as a progressive in his party with just enough conservatism to temper him to the taste of those who will have much to say in directing the appointment of the next judge.

Superior newspaper man who handled the senator's primary campaign in Pinal county, and Judge Oberfield, who stands well in the affections of the present republican organization in power.

It is time to have a general clean up day in Patagonia. Mr. Northern and Mr. Johnson have trimmed the trees and cleaned up the park just east of the depot.

O. F. Ashburn informs us that cattle are doing better since the trees have come out in full leaf and thinks that this will carry them through until the rainy season begins.

The Harshell mine is shipping ore out of Patagonia now and will probably continue in this very encouraging line of work indefinitely. We hope that the day is very near when many other mines will begin shipping.

The article which appeared in last week's Patagonian under the caption of "Texas Rangers Road Fighters," was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by many of our elderly readers.

Rev. Mr. Raly of Hayden, held services at the school house in Patagonia last Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and 8 o'clock p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith made a business trip to Nogales Tuesday.

ELGIN Extracts

The Elgin public school closed last Friday with a very interesting and appropriate program. Ten boys, Ira Rotrock and Howard Dutton, completed grammar school and were presented with diplomas.

Mrs. Sarah Daugherty, who has just closed a very successful term of school in Elgin, left for Sonora Sunday where she will teach a month and finish out that term of Mrs. Ira Brooks, who has been ill for some time.

The Mexicans enjoyed a dance at the school house Saturday night and quite a few Americans attended.

The death of Mr. Bartell a few days since at Canille is deeply regretted by a host of friends and relatives. We have been unable to obtain all particulars. He was a good man and his taking away will be a real loss to the community.

MINING NOTES

The diamond drilling contractors who are to develop the Harshell ore bodies will soon be at work.

Parley & Hall are now shipping from their Harshell lease.

Tom Fryer is at work upon his lease on the World's Fair mine.

Owners of mining claims should not forget the fact that the annual assessment work has not been extended past July 1st this year.

The mill of the Black Jack Mines Co. is operating whenever there is sufficient water.

Ray & Counts are getting out some good ore upon their lease on the French mine.

J. L. Young is mining good ore from his Harshell lease.

Don Dawson, a well known local mining man, returned Wednesday from Mexico where he has been for the past several months.

The Southern Pacific railroad will hold a picnic at the Northern Grove, three miles west of Patagonia, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith made a business trip to Nogales Tuesday.

PARKER Canyon

George Parker of San Rafael Valley passed through Patagonia Tuesday enroute to his desert ranch in Pima county.

J. D. Bountree and Mrs. Williamson, of San Rafael Valley, were here on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Clyde McPherson and Mrs. A. C. Post were shopping in Patagonia Tuesday.

Mrs. Harold Brown of Nogales was in Patagonia Monday.

B. Meir, the well known Benson traveling man, spent a day or two here this week.

A Mexican show held the boards at the open house several nights the last week and was quite well patronized.

Prof. Foster, the noted weather prophet, predicts general rains through out the entire United States during the next few days. He also predicts another strong rain period, covering the continent about June 18.

The first shipment of mailboxes from Imperial Valley reached San Francisco markets this week, one week earlier than usual. Within the next week or two mailboxes might be coming into the Patagonia market.

W. H. Barnett is enjoying a visit from his daughter, Mrs. Steen of El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollman, recently of Tyrone, N. M., are occupying Mr. Halpin's house.

Mrs. D. B. Pierce was hostess of the Embroidery Club Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kohlberg of the Play have been guests at the Commercial hotel for a few days.

Some of our teachers are leaving for the summer vacation. Mrs. Whelan and Mrs. McDonald will remain in Patagonia. Miss McCallister will return to her home in Oklahoma. Miss O'Daly and Miss Shelby have not completed their plans for the summer.

Mrs. T. B. Ploran is the weekend guest of Mrs. P. M. Etchells at Mans field.

Miss Duels has returned from Chicago and St. Louis where she visited for two months.

Mrs. C. A. Pierce and children will leave Monday for a visit with relatives in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bethell visited Nogales this week.

AMERICAN GOVT. SERVES NOTICE ON RUSSIAN SOVIETS

WASHINGTON, May 17--Definite though informal notification has been served on Soviet Russia by the state department that so long as Americans are held prisoners in Russia there exists no chance of recognition of the Soviet government in any form by the United States.

It was not generally known that the deceased was in a serious condition but he had been ailing and bedfast for the past nine weeks and hope was entertained to the last of his ultimate recovery, but the tenderest care and most skillful nursing were of no avail and the Master's call was answered.

Edward Charles Bartell was born in Collins County, Texas, in 1855. He was married in Hamilton County, Texas, on Christmas eve, 1876, to Emma J. Henry.

It is interesting to study to watch the proceedings of the minority to keep themselves in power. It takes an upheaval to oust them, and when they might it is in the midst of the incoming power, and they immediately begin to germinate.

Rain is badly needed. God will bestow those who have it in their hearts to ask for rain. Sunday before calling is an appropriate time.

AMERICAN GOVT. SERVES NOTICE ON RUSSIAN SOVIETS

WASHINGTON, May 17--Definite though informal notification has been served on Soviet Russia by the state department that so long as Americans are held prisoners in Russia there exists no chance of recognition of the Soviet government in any form by the United States.

OBITUARY

E. C. Bartell died at his home in Canille, Ariz., on Wednesday, May 11, 1921, at 6 o'clock in the morning, his death being caused by rheumatism which attacked different parts of his body, finally reaching his heart which caused his death.

It was not generally known that the deceased was in a serious condition but he had been ailing and bedfast for the past nine weeks and hope was entertained to the last of his ultimate recovery, but the tenderest care and most skillful nursing were of no avail and the Master's call was answered.

Edward Charles Bartell was born in Collins County, Texas, in 1855. He was married in Hamilton County, Texas, on Christmas eve, 1876, to Emma J. Henry. Of this union 12 children were born, three of whom died when babies, and another, Chester Bartell who lived to manhood and was cruelly murdered near Douglas, Ariz., on September 13, 1917.

The deceased has resided in this county since 1907 having immigrated to Canille from Roswell, N. M., and was one of the first dry farmers in this region. He was a life-long member of the Christian church and was revered and loved by all who knew him.

Owing to a last request burial was made on the ranch which he had loved so well on Thursday, May 12, the services being held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and a beautiful and touching sermon was preached by the Rev. Stewart which carried comfort to the stricken widow and family. Beautiful floral offerings were brought by sympathizing friends and neighbors and wild sweet peas by the school children at Canille and tenderly laid on the casket of the one who lay sleeping in death.

Edward Bartell had reached the age of 65 years and until 12 years ago was a strong and energetic man, but a stroke of lightning sustained at that time from which he never entirely recovered was thought to be partly responsible for his untimely death. The deceased loved to gather his children and grandchildren, the last mentioned of whom there are 30 and many and joyful were the reunions upon the ranch.

The ones who are left behind feel their loss to be irremediable, but are comforted by the thought that the racked body is at rest in peace and the sufferer was glad and willing to go to his Master.

A CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of the neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during the last illness of our beloved husband and father, Edward C. Bartell.

MRS. E. J. BARTELL AND FAMILY.

R. N. Keaton, a successful farmer and stockman of San Rafael Valley, and who also conducts a store on his ranch, was in town Wednesday enroute home from a business trip to Nogales.

Mr. Keaton intended to purchase a quantity of shotgun shells to accommodate his trade, but the best quotation he could get was $1.25 per box. He didn't buy. Muttering on back to Nogales he hid in a good supply of these shells at only $1.00 per box. Mr. Keaton is now advising Patagonia people to trade at Patagonia.

An Elks' benefit dance is advertised to be given in Patagonia on the night of Saturday, May 28. The invitation is to all. A good time promised.

RADICALS IN MEXICO CITY ATTEMPT TO CAUSE RIOT

MEXICO CITY, May 18--Radical sympathizers attempted to force their way into the chamber of deputies last night to attack members of the Liberal-Constitutionalist party holding a caucus there. The streets near the congressional building were filled all afternoon with the curious who are awaiting developments. One socialist deputy was arrested and some members of the Liberal-Constitutionalist party openly carrying arms left the building but no attacks were made.

FRENCH CHIEF TELLS PLANS OF COUNTRY AS TO POLES

PARIS, May 19--Frenon insists upon the execution of the Versailles treaty in drawing the frontier line between Germany and Poland in Upper Silesia. Premier Briand declared last night, upon receiving newspaper correspondents. He reiterated his declaration of last Friday that the invasion of Silesia by German troops would not be tolerated by France. Briand said he did not see the desirability of meeting Lloyd George before all documents had been received from the interested commission at Oppeln.

"I too want to see the treaty carried out," said the premier to a correspondent of the London Daily Mail "but there is nothing in the treaty which stipulates that all rich mining districts in Silesia must go to Germany while the Poles will get what is left."

FIGHTING MEN IN COAL VEIN OF SOUTH AT WAR

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 13--Mountain warfare which raged yesterday and intermittently through the night over a seven-mile front in the West Virginia-Kentucky coal strike region was resumed with vigor this morning. Reports sent to Captain J. B. Brockus of the state police at Lewisport here said that fighting is in progress in the Kentucky-Kentucky coal eastern part of the strike zone. At Mountain View, Va. there is a truce today.

PIKESVILLE, Ky., May 13--Four persons were killed and one man wounded in the fighting along the Kentucky and West Virginia borders during the last 24 hours according to reports received here today.

Franklin K. Lane's Remains to Be Thrown to Winds

CHICAGO, May 19--The body of Franklin K. NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Reparations Ultimatum and Protocol Handed to Germany by the Allies.

RUHR WILL BE OCCUPIED

Fehrenbach Cabinet Resigns After America Rejects Offer—Poles Invade Upper Silesia Plebiscite Zone—Panama Scorns the Warning of Secretary Hughes.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Two things operated to prevent the occupation of the Ruhr district by the allied forces last week. One was the hesitation of Great Britain and Italy to exact the sanctions which France demanded and which everyone admits are warranted. The other was the time required to mobilize the French troops and move them over into German territory. The French minister of war, however, called to the colors about 140,000 men of the class of 1919 and started them toward the Ruhr, armed and equipped for real warfare.

For several days the supreme council, in session in London, argued over the reparations and sanctions. Lloyd George and Count Sforza delaying final decision as long as they could, while Premier Briand insisted on speedy action. Lord Curzon was singularly stubborn in contesting the French propositions and in the effort to delay matters he persuaded the council to summon to London the entire reparations commission. Early in the week Secretary of State Hughes had replied to the German note, saying that the offer of Berlin was not, in the opinion of the American government, worthy of transmission to the allies, and expressing the hope that Germany would "at once make directly to the allied governments clear, definite and adequate proposals which would in all respects meet its just obligations."

The wording of this note made it clear that America would not interfere, but the British and Italian members of the council still hoped Doctor Simons would come across with a new offer that would make the seizure of the Ruhr unnecessary. On Wednesday, however, they gave in and a final agreement was reached regarding the ultimatum and protocol to Germany. Next morning the documents were signed and the ultimatum giving Germany six days to accept, was handed to Doctor Schaner, German ambassador to Great Britain. The allied reparations commission carried the protocol to Paris and handed it to the German representatives there.

The total sum demanded from Germany was increased from 132,000,000,000 to 135,000,000,000 gold marks by the inclusion of the sum due Belgium for her debts to the allied nations. Germany is to acknowledge the indebtedness by the issue of bonds in three sections, the first immediately, the second in November and the third according to her ascertained ability to pay. Germany is ordered to pay 2,000,000,000 gold marks annually and, in addition, 20 per cent of the value of her exports. When these payments exceed the interest on the bonds issued the reparations commission is entitled to require the issue of further bonds to the amount of the annual income. It was also decided that the proceeds of certain German revenues, such as the customs, should be appropriated to the service of the debt.

To enforce compliance with the demands of the allies France will occupy the Ruhr district on May 12, her troops being accompanied by relatively small detachments of British and Belgian soldiers, and it is probable the British and French navies will at least make a demonstration in the North sea and the Baltic, possibly establishing naval control of Bremen, Hamburg and Sietin. Concerning this it was felt the advice of the United States should be obtained. Meanwhile the German cabinet was

GOLD FLOWS INTO COUNTRY

Almost Every Nation in the World is Shipping Precious Metal to United States.

New York.—A veritable flood of gold is sweeping upon the shores of the United States.

Already the precious metal in the country has attained the unprecedented amount of $3,001,487,915, and yet the tide is rising.

Financiers attribute this to the fact holding futile sessions trying to frame a new offer, and on Wednesday Chancellor Fehrenbach, Foreign Minister Sironis and their colleagues gave up and resigned. At this writing it is understood Doctor Stresemann, leader of the people's party, will be chancellor, and Dr. Mayer-Kaufmann, German ambassador to France, will be foreign minister. The collapse of the German cabinet had no effect on the plans of the allies.

The United States doubtless will take no part in the military occupation of the Ruhr district, but it may soon be a party to the enforcement of the reparations terms. The supreme council has invited President Harding to name representatives in the council and the reparations commission, and there is reason to believe the invitation will be accepted. The administration, it is said in Washington, desires to participate in the work of the commission to promote American interest in a permanent settlement.

Enraged by reports that the allies' plebiscite commission had recommended that only the Rybnik and Pless regions in Upper Silesia be awarded to Poland and that the rest of the territory be given to Germany, some 20,000 Poles, well organized and armed, invaded Upper Silesia, seized a number of important cities, cut the communications with Germany and at latest reports were advancing on Oppeln, north of the Oder river. The French, British and Italian control officers and their small bodies of troops were unable to cope with the situation and the whole region was overrun, the peasants there siding with the Polish invaders. At Gross Strehlitz Italian forces commanded by Colonel Bond, an Englishman, resisted the Poles who sought to occupy the city and an artillery engagement ensued.

The German government, of course, formally protested against this action of the Poles to the allied governments, and the latter took immediate steps to regain control of the situation, declaring martial law in the plebiscite zone and sending troops against the invaders. It was admitted that it would be hard to oust the Poles, and the alleged fact that their course was tacitly approved by the French authorities there created considerable ill feeling between the British and the French. Premier Briand, however, asked Prince Sapieha, Polish foreign minister, now in Paris, to transmit to the Polish government a request to end the disturbances in Upper Silesia. When the allied supreme council adjourned its London session it was said it would soon meet again in Oostend to take up the Upper Silesia question.

Now that the senate has adopted the Knox peace resolution, it is up to some one to devise our further procedure in the matter of restoring our relations with Germany. In the final debate on the resolution Senator Lodge admitted the Versailles treaty could not be so amended as to meet the requirements of the United States, as President Harding hoped, and that a new treaty must be negotiated. This, of course, is pleasing to the "irreconcilables," who now believe the Versailles pact never will be resubmitted to the senate. And, as has been said before in this review, it is difficult to see how that treaty can be separated from the League of Nations covenant. The situation is not satisfactory to the majority of Americans, nor to our associates in the war. German officialdom was glad to hear of the adoption of the Knox resolution, though there is no hope there of an early resumption of diplomatic and commercial relations with America.

The little republic of Panama is going around with a chip on her shoulder and is talking back to Uncle Sam. Secretary Hughes warned Panama that unless she acts voluntarily in a reasonable time the United States will take steps to compel her to transfer jurisdiction of the disputed Costa territory to Costa Rica and to abide by the White award. President Porras asserts that Mr. Hughes' note has not changed the attitude of Panama and that she "feels backed in her right in refusing the White award," her position being supported by the opinion of Doctor Bustamante of the University of Havana, an authority on international law. Porras concludes:

"The United States is the world's 'creditor nation' and for the equal important reason that the other nations of the world find it well-nigh impossible to transact business with this country, by reason of their depreciated currency.

The precious metal is coming from all quarters of the globe, but the European countries, more particularly Great Britain and France, as well as the Scandinavian nations, are paying heaviest toll.

Sweden is sending gold received

"Panama feels sure that the American government will cease its endeavors in recommending acceptance of a decision upon which public opinion already has become an adjudged matter. Panama refused the White decision with the same right and for almost the same reasons that the United States government declined in 1831 a condition that led to innumerable deaths in war time and frequently has a similar result after accidents in time of peace.

President Harding won the first part of his fight for a big navy, the naval committee of the senate having reported for funds not only for completing the 1916 building program but also for a personnel 20,000 in excess of the 100,000 proposed by the house. Besides this, the committee refused to incorporate in the measure the proposal of Senator Borah, authorizing and requesting the President to invite Great Britain and Japan to a disarmament conference in Washington. Borah will make a fight for his amendment on the floor of the senate and Senator Pomerehne also has a similar amendment which he will introduce.

The senate committee increased the house total of $396,000,000 to $496,500,000, or the same figure in the bill as it failed in the senate last March.

The senate passed the Dillingham immigration bill, which limits immigration to 3 per cent annually of persons of various nationalities in the United States in 1910. Only Reed of Missouri voted in the negative. The measure went to conference and it was expected the house would accept the senate bill and that it would be signed by the President. It becomes effective within fifteen days after enactment and remains in force until June 30, 1922. The measure would permit the landing in America of about 350,000 immigrants in the next twelve months.

In the Republican presidential preference primaries last year North Carolina went for Hiram Johnson. In the Republican national convention Delegate David H. Blair refused to abide by those instructions and voted for Warren G. Harding. A few days ago President Harding nominated Mr. Blair for the important office of commissioner of internal revenue and the nomination came before the senate in executive session. There was a stormy debate, the opposition being led by Senator Johnson, who told of Blair's action in the convention and asserted that "a man who will violate his own state's laws is unfit to administer the nation's laws."

A second objection made by Johnson was connected with tax returns. He said: "Mr. Blair's father-in-law is one of the richest men in North Carolina and he sought, by forming a partnership with his family, to lessen the amount of his income tax." The nomination was referred back to the senate finance committee, which, on Saturday, began a thorough investigation of Johnson's charges.

Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan is set free from all charges of violation of the federal corrupt practices act. The United States Supreme court set aside the conviction of Newberry and 10 other defendants, the majority opinion holding that the law under which they were convicted is unconstitutional. All the justices agreed that the conviction should be reversed, but three of them held that congress, under the provisions of the original Constitution, has the power to regulate primaries.

The board of directors of the United States Steel corporation has announced a cut in wages of day labor of about 20 per cent, effective on May 16, and an equitable adjustment of all other rates, including salaries. Chairman Gary also announced that the board had been unable to find a practical basis for the entire abandonment of the 12-hour day in the immediate future. The average wage will be cut, by this order, about $1.40 per day, and the reduction in the corporation's pay roll will be not less than $150,000,000 annually. Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, denounced the wage cut as unjustifiable.

From Germany for war supplies, also bar gold bullion which many believe to be of Russian origin. By way of the Pacific have come occasional shipments of gold from Siberia where they formed part of General Kolchak's war chest.

South America and Central America also are making involuntary contributions to this country's vast holdings of the yellow metal, mainly because unsettled economic conditions in Latin America virtually preclude any other form of payment to this country.

Find Cause of 'Wound' Shock

Doctor Canon of Harvard and Aids Announce Results of Experiments During War.

DIFFERENT FROM SHELL DAZE

Condition Usually Develops Some Hours After Serious Wound or Accident—Dead Tissues Become Toxic and Poisonous.

Cambridge, Mass.—Discoveries made by Dr. Walter B. Cannon of the Harvard Medical school and other American, British and French medical officers toward the close of the World war have brought forth new evidence regarding the cause and nature of the strange phase known as "shock," a condition that led to innumerable deaths in war time and frequently has a similar result after accidents in time of peace.

"Shock, or wound-shock, as it is often called, has long baffled the medical profession," Doctor Cannon said to a press representative, on being asked to describe the results of his important work.

"Occurs After Any Accident." "This condition, which, by the way, should not be confused with shell-shock, an entirely different phenomenon, usually develops some hours after a serious wound or accident. It frequently followed grave shell wounds in the war, and often comes on after a person has been seriously hurt in an accident in times of peace. After, for example, he has had a limb crushed in a railroad accident.

"There have been numerous theories of the nature of shock. Some doctors held that shock resulted from nervous collapse, others that it came from a clogging of blood vessels by fat from wounds, some that it was due to paralysis of the nerves controlling the arteries, others that the adrenal gland was somehow affected so as to do the mischief, and so on.

Our work in France gave us opportunity to study shock in the utmost detail. One by one we threw out the theories advanced in former years.

"Establish Real Cause." We at length finally tested and established the fact that the condition results from the tearing or crushing of muscles or other tissues by missiles moving with terrific velocity. The damaged or dead tissue soon becomes toxic, or in other words acts like a sort of poison. This toxin causes an increased permeability of the smallest blood-vessels, the capillaries, and thus there is lost through their walls quantities of the fluid portion of the blood which should be in circulation. The result is somewhat similar to that of great loss of blood from the body."

SAYS THAT EARTH IS SPEEDING TO END

Detroit.—The world is traveling on its way to destruction at the rate of 900,000 miles a day, so the Rev. George T. Gulien of the West Grand Boulevard M. E. church believes. That was a sure thing, he declared, and further he said there are at least eight other ways in which the world may come to its end before the fatal ending of the "death journey."

First, he declared, the axis of the earth might decide to shift about a few degrees, with the result that the oceans would sweep over the dry lands and destroy all life before an ark could be built. If that fails to occur there might be a failure of internal fires and the crust of the earth would absorb all the water and the air. The death of our planet might, on the other hand, be brought about by the heat of the sun drying out and leaving the earth a mass of ice. There was just a possibility, that we might all be asphyxiated by the earth passing through the tail of a comet, or this planet might collide with another world wandering through space.

American, British and French medical and surgical officers co-operated in the investigations, some of which were made at Bethune in 1917, some in London, and others at Dijon in 1918 in a laboratory of the American expeditionary force under Doctor Cannon's direction.

"Toward the end of the war," concluded Doctor Cannon, "we had learned much about methods of treating such cases, finding that it was helpful to keep the patient amply warm, to give him quantities of water, and, if necessary, to transfuse blood into the system from somebody else's."

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenwood, W. Va.—"For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenwood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience. Remember this, for over forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring health.

"Whoever told you you could play golf?" sneered the expert.

"Who? Me?" asked the novice. "I'm playing just as well as any of the others, aren't I?"

"Why, man alive, you took fifteen strokes to make the first hole! Is that what you call good playing?"

"Well, I hit the ball every time, didn't I?"

Why That Bad Back?

Is backache keeping you miserable? Are you "all played out," without strength or vigor for your work? Then find what is causing the trouble and correct it. Likely, it's your kidneys! You have probably been working too hard and neglecting rest and exercise. Your kidneys have slowed up and poisons have accumulated. That, then, is the cause of the backache, headaches, dizziness and bladder irregularities. Use Doan's Kidney Pills and in a few days I began to get well and just a few boxes cured me of all kidney complaint.

Miss Old—Was I? I only remember you made such a lovely chaperon for me when I came out.—London Answers.

Radiophone Chess With Sweetheart

For three hours Miss Reeva E. Berke of New York city played chess with her sweetheart, H. L. Rogers, who was in Erie, Pa. Radiophone is the answer—the game being a "stunt" of the radio show on the Hotel Pennsylvania roof.

BIG PROFIT IN RABBITS

Large Increase in the Industry in This Country.

Iowa Boy Clears $1,200 in One Year by Raising Them in His Back Yard.

Washington.—Raising rabbits for the market is becoming a pleasurable and profitable industry in certain parts of the country. A resident of Kansas City, Kan., has raised 300 to 400 pounds of rabbit meat a year for his own table at a cost of only eight to ten cents a pound. In Nebraska a large religious institution that has raised rabbits instead of poultry reports the meat more satisfactory than chicken and the experiment profitable. According to a former county commissioner of Washington, rabbits were grown on the county farm to provide a substitute for chicken for the county hospitals; the initial stock, numbering 119 rabbits, increased to 1,290 in ten months, besides those used in the hospitals.

A high school boy in Iowa, who breeds registered stock on a space 33 feet square in his back yard, raised enough rabbits in 1918 to clear more than $1,200. An Ohio farmer sends 400 pounds of rabbit meat a week to city restaurants, yet is unable to meet the demand. The foregoing are concrete examples of what has actually been done from records of the bureau of biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"It is now well known that rabbit meat," says Ned Dearborn, assistant biologist, in a bulletin to farmers, "is as fine as that of poultry, and that a prolific ten-pound doe can easily raise in a year 20 young, which at five months will produce not less than 50 pounds of delicious meat. By means of compound hutch, all this can be done on an area 4 by 6 feet. Half an hour of time a day and some hay, roadside weeds and refuse from orchard, garden and kitchen, supplemented by a small quantity of grain, cover the cost of production. Raising rabbit meat for home consumption is a proposition for turning to account time, space and materials which are ordinarily wasted. In regions where rabbit breeding is practiced extensively rabbit meat is in common use and has a place with other kinds of meat in daily market resorts.

"The first object in rabbit raising is to supply home needs. The best endorsement an article can have is the fact that it is used freely by its producer. If one is inclined to disdain domesticated rabbits on account of experience with wild rabbits, he should know that the latter, as sold in the butcher's shop, are not to be compared with tender young hutch rabbits. The flesh of the tame rabbit is a highly nutritious and desirable food, resembling somewhat the white meat of chicken. Wherever it has been introduced in the markets, it has become popular, and the demand for it has steadily grown.

POOR, BUT EDUCATE GIRLS

Professional Men Lead in Sending Daughters to College Says Statistics.

Holyoke, Mass.—Professional men, despite their proverbial niggardly salaries, predominate in sending their daughters to college.

Figures made public today from a census conducted by Mount Holyoke college show that although slightly more than 8 per cent of the entire male population of the country are professional men, yet 83.91 per cent of the students registered their fathers as professional men.

The farmers are least interested, the census showed. Thirty-six per cent of the men are in agriculture, but only 8 per cent of the girls come from the farms.

Next to the professional men, the tradesmen are most interested in educating their daughters. Ten per cent of the male population are in trades, yet 24 per cent have tradesman fathers.

Herring Fishes Set Limit

Scotch and English Fishermen to Restrict Catch to 900,000 Barrels This Season.

London.—A joint committee, representing the Scotch and English herring industry, has drafted a plan under which this season's cure is not to exceed 900,000 barrels, of which Scotland will furnish about 500,000 barrels and England the remainder.

The catch will be restricted. When a Scotch steam drifter has earned $5,500 it will cease fishing. Scotch motor drifters will stop when their earnings reach $4,150. At Yarmouth and Lowestoft steam drifters will discontinue fishing after earning $6,500, and motor craft on earning $5,000.

The project is dependent on a grant of $2,875,000 being made by the government, failing which, it is declared by those who devised it, "the industry must come to an end and ruin and unemployment follow in the coast ports dependent on the herring fishery."

PREDICTS SLUMP IN SHIPPING

New Chief of Japanese Steamship Firm is Michigan University Graduate.

Tokyo.—Japan's greatest steamship company, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, has selected as its president Yonejiro Ito, who is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Mr. Ito, who has been serving as vice president of the company, takes the place of Baron Rempel Kondo, who died recently.

In a statement to the press President Ito said that the world's supply of ships is so in excess of the cargo demand that it is natural that the freight market should be as depressed as it is.

UNBELIEVABLE SIMPLICITY

General Pershing has just said a mouthful, as follows, to-wit: "We have no quarrel with the American of foreign birth, but we do object to the foreign-born citizen who attempts to decide an American question for a foreign reason."—Pampa (Tex.) News.

Many of the newly landed immigrants are so full of Old World conceit they imagine they should be welcomed for their attainments in statesmanship and the science of government. The spectacle of a crude and garlic-laden Russian or other Eastern European coming to this country to teach freedom is one to laugh at, were the poor folk not too serious a problem to provoke mirth. Many of the people of Continental Europe have never experienced real political liberty. They are as vaguely versed in democracy as in sanitation, yet any number of them make their way to these shores convinced that they can teach statesmanship to the benighted natives of these latitudes. How seriously they take themselves may be guessed by the considerable quota who, chagrined over the lack of warmth in their reception, undertake to convince a recalcitrant populace by planting bombs in public places. These evangelists of dubious light cannot understand why Americans persist in preferring the traditions of Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Roosevelt and the Constitution of the United States to the superb culture of Carl Marx, the brilliancy of Nikolai Lenin and the splendor of that peerless thinker Leon Trotsky.

A Washington news dispatch says Congress is about to take up the budget system, while another Washington report says "revision in taxes suggested." We predict that the budget will be large enough, and the revision made to fit the budget, and Jones will continue to pay the freight.—Exchange.

Of course Jones will pay the freight. There is no one else to pay it. Jones lives under the protection and assurance of a beneficent government, and ought to be willing to pay for what he gets—and Jones gets more in the way of enlightened and honest government in proportion to what it costs him than a citizen of any other country in the world. Our practice of reviling our government, in which any man has the same voting strength as any other, is habitual, but not praiseworthy. If Jones had to live in a country where taxes are really high, or where political freedom is something that may be given or taken away by a hereditary monarch or a small group of corrupt or ignorant oligarchs—if Jones were to move to a country where anarchy was his neighbor and rapacity his tax collector, he would swim the ocean to come back to blessed America.

Hundreds of men, who a few months ago were feeling chesty over the situation and who evidently believed they had the world by the tail on a down-hill pull, are now fawning about the sudden reversal of conditions. Many of us are in pretty much the same kind of a fix. And yet, we distinctly recall that government experts, bankers and economists told us right along, as long as a year or more ago, that things were not going to stay at as high a pitch as they were; the Treasury Department and its Government Savings Division pleaded with the people to put some of their extra savings in Government bonds and war savings stamps. We were repeatedly warned that we had better lay by something for a rainy day. But the warnings were not all in vain. Savings bank accounts have doubled since 1914. Many millions of dollars in the way of Liberty bonds and war savings stamps are securely immured in the lockers of the people. Thrift was not entirely lost sight of during the war. The spurning was not unanimous by any means.

Infidelity never raised a man or a woman from sin. It never took a drunkard from the gutter, a gambler from his cards, or the fallen from a life of shame. It never found a man coarse or brutal in life and character, and made of him a kind husband and father. It never went into heathen lands among the morally depraved and lifted them out of their degradation to a high state of civilization. It has never written down languages, translated literature or prepared textbooks, or planted schools, or established seminaries and colleges. It has never founded hospitals for the sick or homes for the helpless. What discoveries has it made? Has it added anything to human happiness? Does it bring one ray of comfort to the chamber of death? The religion of Jesus has done this, and more, too. "The tree is known by its fruits."

It is said that President Harding is fond of the old game of pitching horseshoes. The White House no doubt is well supplied with cast-off footwear of the de-throned Democratic rule and such donkeys of both parties as have hung around Washington for years.—Exchange.

The as it has pitch- horse- of the out- little to begin requires no expensive paraphernalia or special dress. One can pitch horseshoes while accoutred in his old clothes and can drag the perspiration from his face by brushing it with his shirt sleeve. To be an expert horseshoe pitcher requires a muscular hand and a cool, clear eye.

IMPRESSING STRANGERS

When a stranger comes to this town he looks around. It is the natural thing to do. His opinions are formed from what he sees and hears and from nothing else. As he finds conditions to exist, so he reports them to other people when he goes elsewhere. That is what makes our reputation abroad, and it is worth remembering. It is not only worth remembering, but acting upon. In the language of our grandfathers, let us all "put the best foot forward," and thus impress strangers with our confidence in the town, its resources and the broad-minded, progressive spirit of our citizens.

The Supreme Court decided a long time ago that the words "United States" were plural. But as these modern civilizationists and anti-state rights upstarts say the "United States is." It is miserable grammar and worse statesmanship, and no old-fashioned scholar, Democrat and Southern gentleman, will ever talk about "these United States" in any such heathen manner.—Texas Exchange.

The United States "is" regardless of any court decision. The states form a union of political divisions, and a union is a singular thing. States are plural when referred to states, but when the union of states is referred to as a nation, a country, an entity, it properly takes the singular form.

Each day the Republicans are finding it necessary to adopt some of the policies favored by Woodrow Wilson. They realize that it is quite a difficult matter to get along in this country without having anything to do with other nations.—Waxalachi (Tex.) Light.

Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hoover, the two members who give the Harding cabinet most of its tone and character, are in high esteem by the two follow ad- of larger of any of the prestige of the Republican party, but rather because as men of practical experience and intelligence, they have found the preceding policies the wise and right policies.

Now that the season is here to eat greens, eat a plenty, for they are the finest things on earth for your health, and above everything else, soak your head and vegetables in the juice, instead of pouring it down the sink as most people do. The "pot licker" as it is known in the south, is the best part of all, full of life and energy. Pot licker, when brewed from good greens, is a most gracious and wholesome food and should be found on the tables of all households.

RAIL OUTLET TO CALIFORNIA GULF IS REPORT

PHOENIX, May 16—Considerable speculation has been aroused here as to the immediate probability of a new rail outlet to deep water from the heart of Arizona as a result of the filing of amended articles of incorporation with the state corporation commission by the Tucson, Cornelia & Gila Bend railroad.
The amendment to the articles permits the corporation to extend its present line—now connecting Gila Bend with Ajo—in a direction south of Ajo, its present southern terminal. While it is not so stated in the amended articles, it is known that those back of the railroad contemplate providing an outlet to deep water by extending their present line to a Mexican seaport on the Pacific.
Just where the seaport terminus of the new road will be has not been divulged. It is said, however, that a right of way has been surveyed south from Ajo over a line which will take the new railroad across the international boundary at mile post 171. This is approximately 50 miles south of Ajo. The route to a deep water terminal from that point on is not made public.
It is expected that the entire right of way will be surveyed before long. The engineering work on the right of way preliminary survey is being done under the direction of E. G. Teitelhart who was formerly connected with the state highway department. He is said to be an engineer of more than ordinary ability and was for a time construction engineer in charge of the work on the Superior-Miami highway.
The decision to extend the Tucson, Cornelia & Gila Bend road was arrived at during a meeting of the directors of the road at Warren on May 12.

FRANKLIN K. LANE PASSES TO BEYOND

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 18.—Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, died in a local hospital following an attack of angina pectoris. He was operated on May 4 for gall stones and appendicitis. It was said he was recovering when heart disease developed.

It was often said of Franklin K. Lane that if he had been born in the United States instead of Canada, he would have been presidential timber. After serving seven years in President Wilson's cabinet as secretary of the interior, he resigned his $12,000-a-year post in expensive Washington early in 1920 "in justice to his family" to become vice president and legal adviser of the Mexican petroleum companies controlled by Edward L. Doheny.

Born near Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, July 15, 1861, the son of a Canadian doctor who immigrated to California during the boy's childhood, young Lane was educated at the University of California from which he was graduated in 1888. By reason of his scholastic achievements the honor ary degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him some years later by his alma mater and by New York and Brown Universities and the University of North Carolina.

Upon leaving college he engaged in newspaper work, becoming part owner and editor of the Tucson, Wash., Daily News. In 1889 he was admitted to the bar of California and from 1897 until 1902 served as corporation counsel of San Francisco. In the latter year he was the democratic candidate for governor of California but was not elected. He received the party vote of the state legislature in 1903 for United States senator. Appointed a member of the Interstate Commerce commission by President Roosevelt in 1905, later becoming chairman, Mr. Lane was serving in that capacity when he was made secretary of the interior.

During his service on the Interstate Commerce commission he earned the reputation of being a progressive. His decisions in the railway cases were said to have been almost invariably pleasing to men of advanced ideas. He favored for years a National Corporation commission similar to the Interstate Commerce commission with power to regulate all business enterprises engaged in interstate commerce as the most effective remedy for trust evils. He also advocated a commission form of government for Alaska. He was elected a member of the permanent International Railway commission, organized in 1910 at the International Railway congress in Bern, Switzerland.

In 1914 Mr. Lane headed the American delegates at a joint conference with high commissioners from Mexico, as a result of which a protocol was signed at Atlantic City and United States troops were withdrawn from that country.

When the United States entered the war in 1917, Secretary Lane in a number of public speeches outlined his country's purposes and urged business men to show themselves as worthy as those of the men on their way to the trenches. In numerous addresses in behalf of the Liberty Loans he declared the debt of the United States was "unthinkable" and that the government was determined to see the war fought to a finish. When peace came he declared plans for the employment of returning troops, urged Congress to federalize the Americanization of the foreign born, aided in the reconstruction of France and other war torn nations and advocated immediate passage of a bill to give farms to soldiers. He was also active in the Council for National Defense and the American Red Cross.

Secretary Lane was a keen supporter of the League of Nations covenant and advocated ratification of the peace treaty of Versailles.

In the summer of 1919 Secretary Lane recommended to the president the calling of a conference of representatives of American capital, labor and industry to discuss economic problems. The National Industrial conference, of which Mr. Lane was made chairman, was the result. As chairman of the National Wage commission in 1918 he helped to settle a number of strikes and avert threatened walkouts.

Mr. Lane married in 1893 Miss Ann Williams of Tacoma, Wash. Two children were born to them, Mrs. Nancy Lane Kaufman of Washington and Lieutenant Franklin K. Lane, Jr., U. S. A. of Los Angeles, Cal.

Industrial Commission Suit Appeal Not Filed

PHOENIX, May 17.—In spite of all predictions, no appeal was filed in the supreme court today in the case of the injunction suit against the newly created industrial commission.

When Judge Stanford of the superior court made permanent his temporary injunction order, last Saturday, it was said that an appeal would be taken to the supreme court "Monday." By granting a permanent injunction against the industrial commission, Judge Stanford has forced the state to abandon its plans to have an industrial commission or to take the question of the constitutionality of the law to the state high court.

Horse Cars Will Probably Help Phoenix Folk

PHOENIX, May 17.—Certainly not all residents of Phoenix go to bed with the proverbial chickens. But it would appear from testimony given out at the corporation commission that the Phoenix street railway company expects a part of Phoenix residents to refer to it.

"The car company gives no service on the Grand avenue line after 9:40 o'clock at night," declared one witness at the hearing on a petition for better service. "If you go down town to the second show you have to walk home when the show is over. You live on Grand avenue."

Another witness testified, "The company has not changed its schedule on the Grand avenue line in four years and in that time I am sure over four hundred homes have been built up on that line."

The allegation was made also that the cars didn't start early enough in the morning to get the patrons down town in time by 7 o'clock.

Cite Officials Fnd Living Cost On Decline

PHOENIX, May 16.—Purchasing, as a class, food and clothing for about 1500 people, the state board of control is pleased to note an appreciable drop in prices of these commodities.

According to Purchasing Agent Dunbar, the board is able to purchase food supplies at a considerable reduction compared with a year ago. Flour, for instance, is being bought now for about $4.75 for a 98-pound sack. A year ago the state was paying around $6.75 for the same flour. Herring home cloth, from which prison garments are made, cost the state 70 cents a yard a year ago. Now it is selling for about 36 cents a yard.

There has been a notable reduction in the price of shoes, although the state is taking advantage of the lower prices by purchasing better shoes for the same money. Rice has dropped to 4 cents a pound from 14 cents. Dried fruits took a healthy drop but the tendency now is to rise. Lard and tallow are down, with butter dropping from 25 cents to 20 cents. First class coffee has dropped from 65 cents to 38 cents. Eggs have dropped from $2.100 a case to around $7.50 a case.

The board is keeping a close check on the markets buying only from month to month in order to take every advantage of lowering prices.

GET YOUR CAR READY FOR SPRING

Motorsists have more tire trouble in the early Spring than at any other time.

The reason is that tires which have stood up satisfactorily under winter running conditions are apt to be soft when heated up for the first time.

Soon there will be warm weather and the sun will be outcropping.

You do not want to have your car break down because you failed to take the proper tire precautions.

We have a complete stock of Goodyear Tires, Tubes and Accessories. Why not equip your car with a new set and use your old tires as spares?

Start the season with good equipment—you will find it to be the most satisfactory and economical in the end.

POOR LEAD TO OBTAIN SPLIT

Attempt to Arouse Indignation Over "Horror on the Rhine" Proves Dismal Failure.

The Germanophile attempt to arouse American indignation over the horror on the Rhine and thereby to lead to a split, spiritual rather than diplomatic, between America and her recent allies has failed of its purpose in precisely the same way that German propaganda in this country failed in every one of the years between 1914 and 1918.

The truth is merely that the Germans do not know how to go about it. "Kultur" obviously does not include any knowledge of the fine art of getting something over, a fact amply attested by the reflex action which has accompanied the present attempt.

Dr. Von Mach has proved himself a poor servant of his country, whether he regards his country as America or Germany. He is a poor American for having tried to win America over to the point of view of the unrepentant nation to defeat whose government 100,000 Americans gave their lives, for attempting to resurrect a hyphen that was theoretically buried just three years ago.

POST WINS ON GOLDEN CALF

Two-Headed Animal Aids in Raising Organization's Funds From $100 to $1,500.

The Golden Calf of the Twentieth century has been discovered by the American Legion post at Fredericksburg, Va., which owes an increase in its working capital from $100 to $1,500 to a two-headed juvenile cow, in full title to which the post invested its scant $100 last fall.

Having induced a Westmoreland county farmer to part with the freak animal for this sum, a special levy of various small amounts was made upon the treasury to buy nourishment for the calf. Then came the Virginia state fair in Richmond and the calf was in full bloom, eating both his heads off and waxing fat withal.

The Fredericksburg post put him on exhibit, charging a suitable fee. When the fair was over and the dust had settled, the post treasury contained $1,500—the accrued earnings of the calf—and all this for doing nothing but standing still and being inspected.

It was recently that the representative of a large circus made his offer of $150 for the animal and it was accepted. There is a rumor that the excitement of travel and late hours have affected the calf's health and that he is a poor insurance risk. However, as the old Romans had it, caveat emptor.

The post plans to reinvest the $1,500 as soon as some other such good security as the calf is found.

Legion Men Among the Miners

The activity of the American Legion in the mining districts of southeast Kansas is another pertinent proof that the misunderstanding between labor bodies and the ex-service men's organization has been dissipated.

At Seaman, Kan., the climax of the eight-hour day celebration of the miners in District 14, was reached in a ball at the Legion hall, under the auspices of Francis Ellison Post.

Another instance is the almost unprecedented growth of Clarence Smith Post No. 272 at Weir. From a membership of 21 ex-service men in 1920, a total of 112 has been enrolled in 1921 thus far.

Legion Men Among the Miners

A warning to American Legion post officers against using the influence of the Legion to obtain postmasterhips and other political appointments has been made by H. B. Fell, Commander of the Oklahoma Department of the ex-service men's organization.

The Legion commander declared that there is no attempt to curtail the efforts of Legionnaires as individuals, but that activities tending to involve the Legion in politics are contrary to the constitution of that organization.

LEGION ROLLERS UNDER THEM

Ex-Service Men Promptly Halt Exploitations of Pro-German Troublemakers.

In response to the warning issued by their national commander, E. W. Galbraith, Jr., American Legion members in many parts of the country have been active in fighting against efforts of pro-Germans and other hyphenated persons to drive a wedge between America and her allies in the World war.

Twenty-five thousand patriotic citizens of New York attended the "All American Meeting for God and Country," which was held in Madison Square Garden under the auspices of the Legion, as a protest against a previous pro-German meeting, said to be for the purpose of creating sentiment against the alleged "Horror on the Rhine."

When word was received in Philadelphia that Dr. Edmund von Mach, notorious German propagandist, was planning to hold a meeting in that city, Legion members and other patriotic citizens opposed the proposition and succeeded in blocking the scheme.

Similar action was taken by the Legion and various societies in Indianapolis. Among the organizations cooperating with the Legion was the national executive committee of the American Gymnastic union, composed of a large membership of citizens of German extraction, which insisted upon unhyphenated citizenship and scored Von Mach and George Sylvester Viereck. On the same day the Indianapolis board of public works announced it would not permit the use of its large convention hall for the proposed Von Mach meeting.

Learning that Louisville was on the proposed itinerary of Doctor Von Mach, the Kentucky department of the Legion instructed posts to use "every lawful means practicable to stop the threatened invasion of Boche propagandists." The Kentucky Legion's bulletin also warned against the activities of Viereck.

Legion posts have also opposed the hyphenates in Chicago, Cleveland, Omaha, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

THREE VOICES AT ONE TIME

Minneapolis Legion Man Can Sing Tenor, Bass and Baritone Parts Simultaneously.

Wonder voices have been heralded the world over, at least since the inception of the press agent. But it was left for Joe Kaufman, a former army sergeant and an American Legion member in Minneapolis, Minn., to sing the first male trio simultaneously, carrying the parts along with the same harmony and control of three singers.

Kaufman is a government music student. The secret of Kaufman's unusual accomplishment has baffled voice experts as well as himself. Several years ago he discovered his ability to produce overtones which gave the sound of more than one part. He entered the MacPhail school at Minneapolis as a government student and, as his voice strengthened and became clearer, he developed the curious trio.

The only case remotely similar to that of Kaufman, according to his instructor in the government school, is that of a woman singer in whose voice could be distinguished one separate overtone, over which she had practically no control. The former soldier in some way has separated and controlled tenor, bass and baritone parts simultaneously.

Buckeye Boy Bends, Bows and Borrows Bad and Beautiful Bonus Boosting Babbie.

"Apt alliteration's artful aid" was not neglected when an Akron (O.) member of the American Legion spun the following bonus yarn:

"Burt began to bitterly berate the 'bull' about the bonus bill, bewailing the blighted bigotry of the belligerent birds, badly blocking the bonus by bombastic blusterings and brabble, and branding the busted bucks who bore the brunt of the battle as badgers and booty-burglars of billions in bonds, believed by big, bald business brow-beaters to belong buried in banks.

"Before our bewildered Burt boarded a boat to become a battle-scarred vet beyond the borders of our bright, beautiful, big country, he became a benedict; and, back from the battles, busted and barren of bullion, our benighted boy here became beautifully bored because big bibulous bunco men breathlessly built a bunch of back-hand 'us to bribe him by a bank promise of a bonus.

"But Burt isn't badly brow-beaten by the bedraggled babble of a bunco. Blythe, buoyant and bubbling, biding his time, Burt, the benedict and bunte buddy, and Bunkie, his bridle, believe the bully and bunginous idea that a beneficent bunch of birds will be brought to believe that big battles beat the Boche and busted bucks need bread; and before breakfast belated years pass a bonus bill to bring the bacon back to our buddy, Burt.

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Bills in the Congressional Hopper

WASHINGTON.—If the Sixty-seventh congress does not grant anti-legislation in quantity, it will not be for lack of material in the hopper. While old and new legislative proposals in the senate numbered less than 500, as compared with 2,500-odd the first day in the house, they ranged from tax plans through anti-strike legislation to adjustment of international debts.

Senator Swope, Republican, of Utah, offered his bill establishing a sales tax in lieu of excess profits taxes, methods and also an enlarging measure against wool importations.

Unschooling Woman Sculptor of Bolivar

A GOOD part of official Washington journeyed to New York with President Harding on the occasion of the dedication of the statue of Gen. Simon Bolivar. The statue stands in Central park and is the gift of the City of Caracas, capital of Venezuela and birthplace of the great South American liberator.

There's more to this story than the mere dedication of a statue. "Bolivar Hill," in Central park, has been for 30 years the center of a drama which has the elements of human interest. In 1883 the first statue of Bolivar was unveiled. It was the gift of the Venezuelan government to New York city. The sculptor was De la Cova, a South American. Then President Crespo of Venezuela decided that it was not fitting that the great Bolivar should grace in so undignified a posture. He therefore commissioned Giovanni Turini to prepare another model. Turini was an Italian. It is his statue of Garibaldi that is on the pedestal in Washington square. Turini's Bolivar was modeled after a statue at Caracas, a pompous figure seated stiffly on a conventional Roman horse. The Society of National Sculptors disapproved of this statue.

And now comes Mrs. Sally James Farnham. For the new statue 20 sculptors competed, and of the three models finally chosen and sent to Venezuela Mrs. Farnham's was accepted. The great Bolivar is the work of an unschooled, self-taught artist who never had a lesson in her life and, what is more, it is the work of one who was a grown woman, the mother of two children, before she did her first modeling; indeed, before the idea of being a sculptor at all ever entered her much pre-occupied head.

National Park Legislation in Variety

NATIONAL park legislation in great variety was introduced early in the Sixty-seventh congress. Bills were introduced for the establishment of two scenic national parks of the standard type on public lands. One provides for the establishment of Mount Baker National park in the northwest corner of Washington. The park area furnishes scenery like in kind to that in Mount Rainier National park, in the same state.

Utah asks for the Utah National park. This project centers about Bryce canyon in southern Utah, on the eastern declivity of the Paunsaunty plateau (8,000 feet). Bryce canyon is a vast amphitheater a thousand feet deep, filled with the most amazing examples of erosion—towers, shafts and pinnacles, with an endless variety of sculpture and ornament. The erosion uncovers many strata and the range and intensity of the coloring is beyond description or reproduction.

Senator Kenyon introduced a bill for the creation of the Mississippi Valley National park in northeastern Iowa and southwestern Wisconsin. The area lies on both sides of the Mississippi and includes islands, bluffs, virgin forests and much territory of historic interest. Most of the land is privately owned, and congress is asked to appropriate several hundred thousand dollars for its purchase.

Representative R. Y. Thomas of Kentucky introduced a bill which asks for the appropriation of about $1,500,000 to buy Mammoth cave and a surrounding area for a national park.

North Dakota has two projects. Senator McComber introduced a bill establishing the Killdeer Mountain National park. He also presented a memorial from the North Dakota legislature asking for the establishment of Roosevelt National park in the Bad Lands along the Little Missouri.

National Banks New Prosperity Record

THE 1920 fiscal year report of the comptroller of the currency shows that the national banks are flourishing. The number of national banks in operation reached the highest point October 21, 1920, there being 8,157 national banks in operation or authorized to do business.

Since March 14, 1900, 2,828 state banks, trust companies, and private banks, with capital of $183,554,800, have been converted into, or reorganized as national banks, and the movement toward nationalization is proceeding steadily. The 361 new national banks chartered were distributed through 40 different states and the District of Columbia. The 14 states in which the largest number of national banks were chartered are Minnesota, 32; California, 30; New York, 26; Texas, 22; Oklahoma, 21; Kansas, 19; Illinois, 17; Pennsylvania and Ohio, 14 each; New Jersey, Virginia and Colorado, 13 each; Washington, 12; Idaho, 11.

In the number of depositors or deposit accounts in national banks all previous records were exceeded, official reports showing that there were 20,520,177 deposit accounts. This was an increase of 2,279,877. There are now approximately one depositor in the national banks for every five of our population.

The earnings of the national banks, both gross and net, have surpassed all previous years.

The resources of the national banks reached the highest point in their history, $22,711,375,000. This was an increase of $2,089,151,000.

Wireless Station on Russian Island cutting with all parts of the world. Back of Japan's decision to build this new station is a record of several years' strenuous and futile effort to secure possession of the Russian island wireless, which is now held and operated by a few American naval officers and some 35 men recruited from the Asiatic fleet.

The seizure and operation of the plant by American naval forces, despite Japanese protests, has been a source of constant irritation to the Japanese occupational troops in Vladivostok.

The fact that American naval forces occupy and operate this powerful station is but little known outside official circles. The Russian island station really belongs to Russia, and it is expected by American naval officers that it will be returned to Russia as soon as we can find out who Russia is.

Much of the trouble between the Americans and Japanese in the Vladivostok district could be laid to this cause, it is believed.

The mystery of why Mrs. Lot's wife turned around, womanlike, after being warned specifically not to, was explained by Alexander Black, novelist, at a dinner of the Society of Arts and Science, New York.

Mr. Black said Mrs. Lot merely wanted to see if she was being followed by a man.

The subject of profound debate was "Marriage is a Success, Yes? No?" It was discussed with lights turned low under red shades.

Mr. Black said it is now the man who does the turning around and looking back, "usually slightly down."

"Over their faces came curiously mingled expressions of bewilderment and amazement.

"I have seen them turned into eyes or into poets. I have seen them turned from their direction and struck by automobiles."

Schools Are Making An English

This is the type of schoolroom that is rapidly making an English speaking nation out of the 10,500,000 inhabitants of the Philippines.

If a teacher in a public school in the Philippines desires to punish a child, she doesn't have to apply the ruler. She simply sentences the offending pupil to remain away from school a few days!

This is the most severe punishment she can inflict, for Filipino children take an almost abnormal pleasure in going to school and acquiring an education. The all-Philippine legislature, in response to the popular demand for "schools, and still more schools," is constantly increasing its appropriations for education, but the schools can scarcely be constructed fast enough to care for the ever-increasing enrollment. The school enrollment is now 822,000 without any compulsory attendance laws. When Dewey sailed into Manila Bay there were 2,100 private schools in the islands. Today there are 6,500 schools and colleges, with 17,000 Filipino teachers and about 1,000 other teachers, 341 of whom are Americans.

The University of the Philippines is the center of learning of the entire Orient, and is the pride of the Filipino people. It has an enrollment of 3,500 students. Santo Tomas university of Manila, older than Harvard, is another famous seat of learning.

The school system includes normal schools, agricultural colleges, twenty-seven farm schools, a musical school and a school for the deaf and blind.

The Filipino pupil, in addition to learning English and in addition to his regular studies, learns basket making, embroidery and hat weaving, the trades peculiar to the islands, as well as the domestic sciences and pedagogy. There are more positions than can be filled by the trade school and commercial college graduates. The fruits and agricultural schools produced $1,176,850 worth of goods in 1919.

There is nothing that the Filipino people take more pride in and the

STATE DEPT. TIGHTENS ON LIQUOR GAME IN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, May 19—The state department has taken steps to guard more closely the only avenue by which alcohol in liquors for beverage use may enter the country. In communication to the heads of embassies and legations the department outlined new regulations governing the issuance and certificates under which members of employes of missions may obtain liquor shipments. Amendment of existing rules are apparently being made for the purpose of preventing the possible misuse of such certificates.

President Obregon Lends Aid To Catch Murderer

PHOENIX, May 19—Acting Governor Ernest Hall is in receipt of a wire from President Obregon assuring the state of Arizona every assistance in the matter of bringing to Justice Alvario Chavez, alleged murderer who escaped across the border. It is said that Chavez confessed to the murder of Jose Fisher at the Slaughter ranch near Bisbee recently.

He was confined in the jail at Agua Prieta by Mexican authorities but was later released. Upon the request of the state of Arizona, President Obregon has been interested in the case. His wire to the governor of Arizona is as follows:

"Received your message yesterday. I can assure you that the government in my charge shall do all which is possible within our laws to avoid impunity of the criminal referred to. Affectionately, Presidente Republic. "ALVARO OBREGON."

Trade Conference In Mexico Being Fostered

MEXICO CITY, May 19—Preparations are being made here for the continuation of more than 1,500 delegates to the International Trade Conference which opens in Mexico City next June 29 and continues for six days. More than 1,000 delegates are expected from the United States alone. The Women's Chamber of Commerce of the United States has been invited to participate in the conference.

Spanish, English and French will be the official languages of the meetings but the committee in charge asserts German, Italian, Swedish and Norwegian exporters and importers will be well represented. The program will include discussions of such subjects as Mexican credits and methods of sales and distribution, tariff reciprocity between Mexico and the countries with which it exchanges goods and products, standardizing weights and measures in the United States, Canada and Mexico and the exchange of Mexican-American scholarships.

SUITS COATS

WITH THEIR OWN INDIVIDUALITY

Every suit shown in our Ready-to-Wear Salon is an unequalled value authoritative in every line and innovation. The up-to-the-minute modes which are awaiting your inspection, are tailored with that thoroughness which not only assures service but at once inspires confidence.

These stylish suits are fashioned of this season's most favored fabrics, in shades most approved by dressed women.

WITH A CHARM AND A VALUE ALL THEIR OWN

Mother and daughter can come to this store of style, quality and service and be assured of getting a spring coat to meet with her individual requirements.

They are thoroughly practical for street, motor, traveling and general wear; and are developed of fine quality light weight bolivia, tricelines, wool velours and serges.

Millinery

IN THE NEWEST CONCEITS OF THE SEASON

From the leading milliners of America, we have collected hats of unusual beauty. They are the talk of Fashiondom, are well-made in the best obtainable materials, and are correct and exactly in the mode of 1921 Fashions. Infinite variety characterizes our showing. Small close fitting hats; large luxurious picture hats; some hats are very severe and tailored, and some models are hand woven.

See our window display and also accept this announcement as an invitation to visit our section and inspect these hats at your leisure.

Skirts of Beauty and Unusual Smartness

ARE HERE FOR YOUR SELECTION

There is an irresistible charm about these new skirts that evoke the admiration of women who always seek the individual in fashion.

Sports Suits

ARE HERE IN VARIOUS MODES

A diversified collection of brand new style conceits decreed by Fashiondom as the most popular and favorite styles for sports wear. Without doubt, the style creators have outdone themselves as each model is prettier than the other. They possess the distinguishing qualities that place them in a class favored by women who admire the latest.
