HARDING TAKES UP DUTIES AGAIN

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY RETURNS TO WASHINGTON AFTER FIVE WEEKS' VACATION.

FLORIDA TRIP ENDS

MANY MATTERS WILL DEMAND ATTENTION OF EXECUTIVE AT ONCE.

Washington.—President and Mrs. Harding returned to Washington from their five weeks' southern vacation. The trip from Augusta, Ga., where the presidential party spent last week, was without incident.

Mrs. Harding, it was said, was only slightly fatigued by the sixteen-hour train ride, indicating the gain in strength resulting from the five weeks spent in the South. The improvement in her health was further shown by the fact that she walked to the automobile at the station entrance, whereas, on starting the trip the automobile was driven into the railroad yards directly to the steps of the President's private car.

Mr. Harding immediately visited his office and spent two hours there. While at the executive offices Secretary Weeks called to welcome the President back and the two talked for several minutes.

A number of matters of importance will receive the attention of the chief executive during the coming weeks, and the President is described as most anxious to get as many as possible if not all of them from the way before the middle of June, the time tentatively selected for the beginning of the proposed western trip.

The President has not as yet finally decided on the western trip, having reserved his decision on account of Mrs. Harding's health.

While Mrs. Harding stood the southern trip exceedingly well and was in fact greatly benefited by it, it is recognized that such a tour as that proposed to the Pacific coast and possibly to Alaska would be far more worrying.

Among matters expected to receive Mr. Harding's attention within the next week or two are the sugar situation, in which the tariff commission is expected to submit a report soon, and the merchant marine problem. With respect to the latter it had been expected that the shipping board would be able to present to the executive by the middle of the month the proposals of the government. The preparation of some of the detailed information found desirable to place in the President's hands has, however, been found to require more time than has been expected, and so that problem will not receive immediate attention except in a way.

Several appointments are soon to be announced, including a member of three groups, composing the railroad labor board in addition to federal judges created by Congress and a member of the federal reserve board to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Milo D. Campbell.

President Harding Buys Birthplace.
Mount Gilead, Ohio.—President Harding has purchased his birthplace, a farm in north Broadfield township, Morrow county, where, as a barefooted boy, he spent his childhood days. The deal was consummated through French Crow, postmaster at Marion, Ohio, lifelong friend of the president who acted as his personal agent. Harry Erickson has owned the farm for a number of years.

Turkish Answer is Friendly.
Constantinople.—The reply of the Turkish government to the invitation of the allies for Turkey to attend the sessions of the Near East peace conference to be resumed soon at Lausanne reached Constantinople from Angora and will be immediately conveyed to the representatives of the allies here. The note declares the Turkish counter proposals contain no substantial modifications of the territorial and other clauses of the draft treaty which the powers cannot equitably accept.

War Looms in Lithuania.
Riga, Esthonia.—It is persistently reported here that Lithuania is making considerable military preparations in the region of Vilna, from which early developments are expected. Numerous German officers are entering the Lithuanian army service. After two years spent by a mixed commission of Latvians and Russians in demarcating the Russo-Latvian frontier, the final agreement was signed here a few days ago.

Yeoman Held for Rabbits Death.
San Francisco, Calif.—C. B. Hicks, a yeoman held at Mare Island navy yard for the San Francisco police in the investigation of the death of Rabbi Alfred G. Lafer, was identified by Miss Louise Howitt of Los Angeles as the same man who was registered at a San Francisco hotel the day preceding the assault on the rabbi. Belleville Tompkins, night clerk at the Gates hotel, identified Hicks as the sailor who registered with the rabbi at the hotel as H. B. Hildebrand.

YEAR OF ADVANCE

Canada Rightly Proud of Its Achievements in 1922.

Has Bravely Met and Overcome Depression Following the War—Financial Standing as Nation High.

The year 1922 in Canada, Western Canada particularly, has been a year of quiet achievement. If there has been nothing in its development of a spectacular nature, there has been a steady growth, a resolute elimination of things immaterial to prosperity.

The year 1923 is entered upon by the people of the West in high hope that it ushers in a period of prosperity based upon the productivity of the country and the vast riches of its natural resources.

Canada, in common with all other nations, has felt keenly the cycle of depression following the spurious activity and inflated business coming immediately after the cessation of the war. It has met and overcome many obstacles in the path of its prosperity. The year just passed, however, has seen the silver lining peep out from the edges of the dark cloud and has demonstrated to the world the celerity with which this country can adjust itself to changed conditions. This is evidenced by the fact that Canada has been the first among all countries whose currencies fell below par to bring that currency back to par, and even for a time above par. It did this in the face of what seemed insuperable difficulties, increased its exports, lessened its imports, and generally set its business house in order.

The high standing of Canada as a nation is shown by the ease with which her bonds are absorbed and by the high prices paid for them, and Winnipeg, it may be mentioned, in a recent flotation obtained a higher price than even any provincial government for some time.

Western Canada in 1922 harvested its largest grain crop. Its production of grain, live stock, cereal and dairy products will, when all is marketed, produce in the neighborhood of a billion dollars. There has been, and there still is felt considerable disappointment that the total value is not larger, but the fact remains that this vast sum of money has come to the West, or is in the process of coming, and if, as is undoubtedly true, much of it is used in the liquidation of obligations incurred in the past, it is but a safer and surer, if longer, road to that prosperity to which all are looking. In the process of reaching this prosperity it is inevitable that there must be some failures.

As a matter of fact, it is the opinion of many prominent business men that 1922 saw the corner definitely turned and that 1923 will commence the upward swing.—Advertisement.

His Dislike.
"You are a confounded liar, an infernal idiot and a dirty blackguard!" cried one disputant.

"And you are a driving idiot, a chronic thief and a lounging loafer!" yelled the other.

"Oh, he! he!" said old Festus Pester, pushing forward. "Please explain what all this is about before you begin to fight. While I love trouble as much as any man, and more than most, I dislike to see my fellow citizens killed until I know what it is for."—Kansas City Star.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Oil in Australia.

The assistant government geologist employed by the Freney Kimberley Oil company sends a very hopeful report about the oil bore at Mount Wynne, Kimberley, Australia. The bore is down 128 feet, and between the one hundred and ninth and one hundred and twenty-first foot passed through broken strata with beams filled with asphalt, which must have migrated from oil-bearing beds below. The prospect area is now restricted within definite limits, which simplifies the work, and there are prospects of a successful issue before long.

There's a difference between earnings and income.

Popular.

"She's a very popular girl, isn't she?" "Very. She has a very number of friends spending the winter in the South, and all of them have written to say they wish she were down there with them."

It is easier to raise a disturbance than a mortgage.

S. P. WANTS TO RUN PASSENGER CAR THROUGH PATAGONIA EVERY OTHER DAY

H. S. Doyle, traveling agent of the traffic department of the Arizona Eastern railroad and the Southern Pacific Company, with headquarters in Tucson, was in Patagonia Wednesday and interviewed local citizens regarding a change in the schedule for the passenger "bug" that crawls up and down the track between Nogales and Benson every day except Sunday.

The company, through its agent, proposes to change the service by running a train every other day from Benson to Tucson by way of Nogales, thus giving us a much poorer service—but reducing the expense of operation to the railroad company, which claims it is losing about $2900 a year by maintaining a daily service. The profits from the freight service were not mentioned in detail. Neither were the enormous profits made on the main line.

If the new arrangement goes into effect Patagonians and others along the Nogales-Benson line will get no mail from Nogales from Friday morning until Monday morning, the Patagonia paper could not be delivered to its customers in the rural districts north of town until Monday morning, and if you wanted to go to Nogales to shop on Saturday you would have to hire an automobile or pay hotel bills from Friday till Monday.

Mr. Doyle said he had interviewed citizens all along the line and found no SERIOUS objection to the proposed change in the schedule.

What the citizens that depend on the "gas car" service want is better service. For instance, if the car were to leave Benson in the morning and return in the evening it would afford an opportunity for our citizens to transact business in the county seat at a reduced cost. They could go on the train and save a couple of dollars in their fare. The stage fare is about double that of the railroad cost. They would not be compelled to stay in Nogales two days to do their errands as they now do if they patronize the railroad. With the present schedule one cannot get to Nogales in time to transact any business, at the courthouse, for instance, the day of arrival, because the train does not arrive at its southern terminal until nearly 5 o'clock, at which time business is suspended at that place. Neither does one have time to do any shopping before the stores close. Imagine, if you can, a woman buying a hat in an hour—it can't be done.

No, decidedly, we are not in favor of any change for the worse. If a change is made, we would like to have the train get to Nogales in the morning and return in the evening—so our citizens could SAVE money. That's the only excuse the railroad company offers for wanting to change its schedule—they are losing money. The company, apparently doesn't care a rap how much more it costs you to do business, nor whether you get your mail two days late—or two weeks late.

There are many objections to changing the schedule to an every-other-day service.

The Patagonian will be glad to publish your ideas on this subject if you will send them in. Make them short and to the point. We will not use your name in publishing them, if you do not wish it, but the articles must be signed by the writer.

CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

Announcement has been made from Headquarters of the Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, that their summer training camps will again be conducted this year.

Results obtained at these camps in the past have been excellent, and those who can qualify and wish to enjoy a month's vacation and education at the government's expense should apply at once.

Senator C. A. Pierce of Patagonia has been appointed a member of the committee in this community to support the recruiting campaign for the 1923 Citizens' Military Training Camps.

The purpose of the training camps is "To bring together young men of all types, both native and foreign born; to develop closer national and social unity; to teach the privileges, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship. To show the public by actual example that camp instruction of the kind contemplated will be the making of their sons; that it will develop them physically, mentally, and morally, and will teach Americanism in its true sense."

HEALTH OFFICER INVESTIGATES MEXICAN GIRL'S BURNING

It was reported in Patagonia Monday that the young Mexican girl who was badly burned several days ago by a mysterious fire that enveloped her had died or was about to die from the effects of the experience. Under Sheriff Patterson, County Attorney O'Connor, Deputy Health Officer Purdy and Interpreter Charlie Lopez came up to make an investigation Tuesday, believing a crime had been committed. Dr. Purdy made an examination of the girl's injuries and pronounced her out of any danger of immediate death, saying she was getting on as well as could be expected after her terrible experience.

The matter of how the fire was started has been kept a complete mystery, and it has not yet been learned where or why the fire started. Several contradictory stories have been circulated. The doctor in attendance admits he does not know. Persons living in the house where the burning is supposed to have taken place plead ignorance as to its origin. The girl has made no admissions.

PIONEERS MEET IN PHOENIX

It was estimated that 1500 old-timers of Arizona participated in the pioneers' dance, held in Phoenix in connection with the annual gathering of Arizona's oldest citizens this week. The fourth annual convention of the Arizona Pioneers Association was the occasion for the gathering.

Mrs. Jennie Crowe of Tucson was given the prize for being the oldest woman present, her age being 95. Alexander Marshall of Phoenix was the prize given to the oldest man, his age being 94.

JUDGE PENDERGRASS HANDS OUT STIFF SENTENCES

Lucian Millanes, who has given Immigration Inspector C. J. Trask considerable trouble by encouraging his numerous brothers-in-law to sneak across the border without going through the formality of paying "head tax," was arrested Tuesday by that officer and haled into court on a charge of having a bottle of tequila in his possession, together with being drunk and disorderly. Constable Quinn put him in the Patagonia "jail" to await the arrival of deputy sheriffs, who took him to Nogales for safekeeping until Wednesday. At the hearing Wednesday morning in Judge Pendergrass' court the man acknowledged he was guilty of the offense charged and was fined $50 with the alternative of serving 50 days in the county jail.

Mrs. Millanes, wife of the "hook" toter and imbibor, was also taken into custody, and when searched by a woman designated by the judge, an automatic pistol was found on her person. She was given $20 or 20 days.

HOW TO FAIL IN A DAIRY

The following rules for making a failure in the dairy business were given us by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Arizona, and we pass them along to you—so you may conduct your dairy in the opposite manner:

Don't weigh your milk, for then you might have to figure and think.

Cow testing associations are needless—they show how to save and know.

Don't have many windows in the barn—the hired man might look out. And, besides, you might see the filth that accumulates.

Keep water ice cold—shivering gives the cows exercise.

Avoid heavy milkers—they consume too much valuable time.

Don't supply green feed for cows—they might produce too much milk.

Don't put on clean overalls to milk—they might get dirty.

Don't wash your hands before milking—they should be washed after milking, anyway.

Feed the cows coarse hay—it is good for horses.

Don't cool milk promptly—it checks the growth of bacteria.

Don't provide fresh water for cows—they will drink stale water.

Don't use a pure-bred bull—a scrub will make the cow fresher just as well.

NO THUNDERSTORMS AT POLCA.

The world has its "blind spots" for thunder and lightning, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society. The brilliant flash of lightning and the crackle and thunder would be as impossible of conception by many Eskimos as would "solid water" by equatorial savages.

In general the frequency of thunderstorms decreases as one goes north, until within the Arctic and Antarctic circles they seldom occur.

When Katmai volcano, on the Alaskan peninsula, erupted in 1912, some of the adult natives of the vicinity were more terrified at the lightning and thunder that accompanied the dust clouds than at the possibility of being buried by ash, because they had nothing in their life-long experience by which to judge the blinding and deafening noise from the skies.

Moorish Women's Dull Lives.

The Moorish woman's life is never very exciting or varied, and her many domestic duties tie her to the home. It is only on very special occasions that she is permitted to go out; many never go out at all. The lower-class women are sometimes forced to attend the markets, and are not so particular about covering their faces as the rules of their religion ordain. No strictly religious woman, however, will allow any man but her husband to see her face.

Some of the women are accomplished musicians and dancers, and sing to the accompaniment of their weird native instruments. This is in most cases their only form of amusement. Some of them are also experts at weaving and making tapestry.

Moorish women are seen at their best in the country districts, where one sees them going to a well for water with their earthenware pitchers gracefully poised on their heads or shoulders.

Settlers Introduced Honey Bees.

In reality all honey bees are wild, for they have been but little changed by man, both in structure and in habits.

It does not seem to be generally known that there were no honey bees in America before they were introduced by the early French, English and Spanish settlers.

The old histories contain, however, very few dates on the spread of the bees. The Indians called the swarms which occupied and settled in hollow trees, English flies. They hated them as precursors of the whites, but they quickly learned to eat the honey.—Exchange.

Sunset is emphatically a magazine for the whole family, and it is not duplicated in any sense by any other periodical. Despite heavier costs of production and mailing expense, due to "zone" postage rates, Sunset maintains a fair subscription price of $2.50 per year; but permits western newspapers to offer it as an attractive club combination. Sunset readers are given the benefit of a Special "Western" Editorial section (Pulse of the West), a home-makers and home-builders' section (The Home in the West), The Book Corner, The Service Bureau, the Guide Post (for travelers and tourists) and interesting Westerners—annual stories of unusual (western) people; includes a high quality of fiction and special articles.

You may not soon again have the opportunity to get this high-class magazine at a reduction. By special arrangement with the publishers of Sunset we are offering it in combination with the Patagonian (for a limited time only) at a saving of $1.50 per year for the two publications. You want your "home" paper, and you should also be a subscriber for a distinctly "western" magazine. Sunset will fill that need.

Every person in the west who subscribes for Sunset magazine is really helping the west—and himself, as well. Get the Patagonian and Sunset for $3 a year—a saving of $1.50. That's a good business proposition. Don't let
