Dr. and Mrs. Harris, former residents of Patagonia, who had not been here since 1915, stopped today for a short visit with friends. They are traveling by automobile from Oklahoma to Canada, going by way of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Frank Nell and Mrs. Dan McKinney of Elgin were Nogales visitors Tuesday. Mr. McKinney is in a Nogales hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Lou Quinn, customs inspector stationed at Tubac, was in Nogales Tuesday on official business.

Mrs. Pete Bergier, who has been on a several weeks' vacation in Long Beach, Calif., returned last week.

Mrs. C. J. Trask and children of Lochiel were in town Thursday.

The Big Jim mine received about 23 tons of pipe and other mine equipment this week, which was shipped from Los Angeles by auto truck.

E. H. Evans visited the county seat Thursday morning on business.

Mrs. J. W. Larimore and Dr. Anna Smock of Nogales spent the week-end visiting Miss Grace Van Osdale at her San Rafael Valley ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Blason were Sunday visitors at Lochiel, guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Trask.

Arr. Mary Steen and son, Harry, of Mowry were Nogales visitors Tuesday.

A 10-foot flagpole was erected this week near the "welcome" sign on McKeow street.

Mrs. Richard Farrell and sons Will and Richard, and daughter, Mrs. M. A. Hogan, were county seat business visitors Thursday.

Judge A. S. Henderson was a Nogales business visitor Thursday.

Judge A. H. Oldwell was a county seat visitor Tuesday.

BODY OF MEXICAN FLYER ON ITS HOMEWARD JOURNEY

New York, July 19.—The body of Captain Emilio Carranza, who died a tragic death in a storm-wrecked plane, was speeding homeward today to a people deep in sorrow.

New York's final salute to the hero of Mexican aviation was a profound demonstration of sympathy from the common people.

Captain Carranza in death received the public tribute which he had been denied in life; received the homage of the multitude which stood with bared heads as the long funeral cortege moved slowly down Broadway—the path along which numerous other heroes of the air had been welcomed joyously.

At Pennsylvania station, in the heart of the city, the bronze casket came to rest in a hollow square bordered by the khaki of a guard of honor and tinged with the white uniforms of sailors, the gold and blue and scarlet of consulate attaches. There three volleys were fired over the shattered body of Mexico's flyer and, in a silence seldom known to Broadway, the plaintive strains of "Taps" echoed down the deep canyon of office buildings.

CATTLEMEN MEET HERE JULY 27

The secretary of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association will be in Patagonia on the evening of July 27, and will be glad to meet all cattlemen at the Commercial hotel for the purpose of discussing problems facing the cattlemen in Santa Cruz county at this time. He also wishes to talk with them about additional services which the association might render its members.

All cattlemen of the district are invited to be present, whether they are members of the association or not. It is a cattlemen's meeting, and it is hoped all will be present.

BODY OF LOWENSTEIN FOUND

Paris, July 19.—A body, believed by the police to be that of Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian prince of high finance, who disappeared from his airplane over the English channel, was found off Calais today.

On the almost nude body was a gold wrist watch with the initials "A. L." The body was taken to Calais by the fishing vessel which found it in the channel.

STODDARD OUT FOR GOVERNOR ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

Celora M. Stoddard

Phoenix, July 16.—Pledging himself to an administration of law enforcement, especially that dealing with prohibition, and charging that the government of Arizona, like that of the ancient Greeks, has fallen into the hands of the few and has become an oligarchy, Celora M. Stoddard of Phoenix today formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as governor.

PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION TO HAVE OLD-TIME THRILLS

Washington, July 19.—Washington is planning an old-fashioned inaugural celebration for the winner of the next presidential election, be it Secretary of Commerce Hoover or Governor Al Smith of New York.

Once the most festive and elaborate of national events, the inaugural has become in recent years a hurried, business-like affair almost devoid of pageantry. But this year Washington civic leaders are determined to revive the ceremony in all its pre-war splendor.

This is to be an old-time stump-speeching, torchlight-parading campaign, they point out, and the inauguration should be a fitting climax. They want a parade down Pennsylvania avenue, an inaugural ball, a White House reception, and all the events that once marked a change in national leadership.

Incidentally, they want the crowds that such an affair would attract with the money such a crowd would bring. Washington is not unlike any other city in that respect. Here as everywhere, the firecracker merchant is most enthusiastic for patriotic demonstration on the Fourth of July.

HUNTER APPOINTMENT UPHOLD BY ARIZONA SUPREME COURT

Phoenix, July 19.—The removal of H. S. McCluskey, former secretary to Governor Hunt from membership in the industrial commission of Arizona by the then acting governor, James H. Kerby, was upheld and the appointment of William E. Hunter, former Tucson railroad man and rail brotherhood official, to membership on the commission was declared legal in an opinion handed down today by the supreme court.

ASHVILLE MEETING PLANS FIGHT AGAINST SMITH'S CANDIDACY

Asheville, N. C., July 19.—Two hundred dry leaders attending Bishop Cannon's dry conference here in a session designed to adopt a political plan to break the solid south in favor of Herbert Hoover, today adopted formally the name "Conference of Anti-Smith Democrats."

The 200 dry Democrats from 14 southern states, after an argument over South Carolina Democrats' refusal to bolt the Democratic ticket, picked a committee of 28 to draft an anti-Smith statement of principles and policies to break the solid south.

Speakers from at least nine states expressed opinions that Hoover would carry their states. Cheers from the delegates at these speeches, made in an eleventh-floor hotel roof garden, could be heard in the street below.

The anti-Smith statement, which will be used by the returning delegates to organize women and church sentiment to get out all anti-Smith, anti-Tammany and anti-western southern votes in favor of Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, will be presented to the conference at a plenary session today. It will be ratified and made public then as the principal outcome and result of the meeting.

The South Carolina incident, it was learned, was caused by the refusal of the elected spokesman for that delegation, Dr. A. C. O. Watson, of Spartanburg, to desert the Democratic ticket. He told the conference that South Carolinians could not split their ticket, and that although he was a dry he had to support the nominee of his party. He offered to leave the meeting, but Chairman Barton called him back.

A statement of principles urging southern dry Democrats to vote for Hoover, Republican nominee, was also adopted at the closing session. The organization of a formal campaign among southern Democrats for Hoover on an anti-wet, anti-Tammany and anti-Smith platform was immediately started with the taking of a collection reported to have brought pledges of over $4000.

The American peanut crop comes principally from four southern states, but the crop of peanut politicians is not restricted to any particular section.

CALLAGHAN A CANDIDATE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

J. C. Callaghan

Phoenix, July 19.—J. C. Callaghan, state treasurer, yesterday filed nomination papers for Democratic nomination for secretary of state in the primary election to be held September 11, 1928. Callaghan is the second candidate to file his nomination papers. Last week United States Senator Henry F. Ashurst filed his nomination papers.

JAY LOWE TO OF SHERIFF RACE

J. J. Lowe, chief of police of Nogales, who has been a candidate for the office of sheriff, has announced that, owing to sickness and added expense in his private affairs, he will withdraw from the race, leaving the field free to his opponents. He states that he has not withdrawn in favor of any other candidate, nor has he promised the support of his followers to any of those left in the race.

Mr. Lowe extends hearty thanks to those who were favorable to his candidacy and regrets that it was imperative that he withdraw from the race.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT THE CONFERENCE ON COLORADO RIVER JULY 14TH

The following resolution was adopted by the Arizona conference on the Colorado River, at Prescott, Ariz., July 14, 1928:

WHEREAS, The Colorado river is potentially the most important asset in the state of Arizona, and legislation has been proposed in the congress of the United States for the development of the Colorado river which is extremely inimical to the interests of Arizona in the river; and

WHEREAS, It is the belief of this conference of officers and citizens of Arizona, assembled at Prescott, Arizona, this 14th day of July, 1928, that the Colorado River Commission and the Representatives of Arizona in congress labored loyally and unflinchingly in the interests of Arizona and in spite of the great obstacles and difficulties with which they were confronted, they have achieved remarkable success, and we heartily endorse the work which has thus far been performed by the said commission and the representatives of Arizona in congress, and express the utmost faith and confidence that their further labors will continue to be devoted to advancing, conserving and protecting the interests of Arizona; and

This conference of officers and citizens approves and endorses the stand taken by the commission and Arizona's representatives in congress, that the state of Arizona is entitled to the use of the waters of its tributary streams before those waters enter the main stream; that Arizona is entitled to derive revenue from hydroelectric power which may be developed in the Colorado river to an amount at least equivalent to what the state would receive from taxation on the same basis as other classes of property in the state of Arizona, and the right to an equal division with California of the water remaining in the main stream of the Colorado river after the needs of the other states in the basin have been equitably cared for; and that Arizona and the other states in the Colorado river basin are entitled to protection against Mexico before regulation of the river is undertaken.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That this conference of officers and citizens of the state of Arizona commend the efforts of the said commission to bring about, through conferences with the other states in the basin, an adjustment of the issues that are in dispute; and we have confidence that the commission will continue its labors to affect a settlement of the controversy now existing between Arizona and California in particular, and also the other states in the basin, and we express our appreciation of the efforts of the many citizens of this state who gave freely of their time and money in aiding the commission and our representatives in congress, and we call upon all citizens of the state to continue in their support of the work done by the Colorado River Commission and of our representatives in congress during the coming months so that the country may know that in this conflict in which the rights of Arizona are involved, the people of our state are united.

HUGE CROWD HONORS DEAD MAN, WHO WAS POPULAR HERO OF COUNTRY

Mexico City, July 19.—The body of General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, who was assassinated Tuesday while attending a banquet in his honor in a restaurant about 10 miles from Mexico City, by Jose de Leon Torral, was taken back to his farm home in Cajeme, Sonora, yesterday over the route by which he had come in triumph to the capital to receive the plaudits of 10,000 friends.

The one-armed general, hero of many bloody revolutionary battlefields, instead of the great demonstration planned for him, received here five bullets in his body from the revolver of an assassin, a religious fanatic.

One hundred and fifty thousand persons, including the most distinguished men in Mexico and foreign diplomats, escorted the body to the station. Obregon, dead, was flanked on his final journey from the capital city by cavalry with drawn sabers and followed by the troops which guard the republic's president, while 12 army airplanes flew in low formation overhead.

General Obregon met his death in a small cafe in the company of half a dozen political friends—and was honored, dead, with greater pomp than he ever had received during his tempestuous life.

Calles Offered U. S. Aid

Washington, July 19.—The United States is prepared to cooperate with President Calles to prevent possible revolutionary disturbances in Mexico as a result of the assassination of President-elect Obregon.

In an authoritative quarter it was said this government will do whatever it can on this side of the border to prevent such disturbances.

"Revolution is the last thing we want to see in Mexico," one authority said. "Naturally, if we can help stop it we shall do so."

Washington is dependent largely upon Ambassador Morrow in this situation. His relations with Calles have been so intimate and so productive in adjusting differences between Mexico and the United States that it is expected here he support of this government will be exercised through him in a personal way rather than by more spectacular action from Washington. In fact, any direct attempt here to interfere would not only be contrary to the Coolidge-Kellogg policy, but would possibly defeat its own ends in Mexico, where public opinion is sensitive about American interference.

The situation as viewed here is largely in the hands of Calles, who may be obliged to use arbitrary power in dealing with this emergency. In so doing he would have reason to count upon the moral backing of Washington.

Religion Blamed

Mexico City, July 19.—President Calles issued a statement last night in which he said the assassination of President-elect Obregon had confessed that religious fanaticism had prompted him to commit the murder.

The president's statement said "the authorities charged with the duty of investigating the murder have full proof directly implicating a member of the clergy in the crime."

RADIO IN FAR NORTH

Mail which has recently come from Canadian outposts within the Arctic Circle tells of the gratitude of the inhabitants of the Far North for the radio programs which they have enjoyed during the past long winter.

Many letters addressed to the Canadian Westinghouse Company express appreciation of the personal messages from loved ones at home which are permitted to be sent on certain nights. An example is one from L. A. Learmouth, stationed at Chesterfield Inlet, who said:

"I was able to hear messages from my folks in Toronto and Montreal. It is an immense service you are rendering to all who must dwell in these isolated regions."

Great as is the enjoyment derived from the radio by people who live in the centers of civilization, it is nothing to compare with that experienced by those in remote sections of the world.

The Associated Press states in a dispatch that "President Coolidge is preparing to deliver a short 10-minute speech." But if he should deliver a long 10-minute speech it would be bigger news.

WAR ON PESTS COSTLY

Few persons, even among those engaged in the fight, realize the enormous cost of the warfare which must be continually waged against the various forms of insect and plant pest. It is estimated that the time and money expended for this purpose in the United States represents a loss of two billions of dollars a year.

In spite of this mighty effort, insects and plant diseases destroy between 10 and 15 per cent of all food raised. This situation also confronts Canada and South America and to a large extent the entire world.

A new menace which is rapidly spreading is the European corn borer, which has recently been causing farmers great concern. Among others which are particularly destructive may be mentioned the Japanese beetle, boll weevil, leaf hopper, red spider and an almost endless list of minor pests.

An eminent scientist declares that if continuous warfare were not waged against these destructive agencies they would cause a loss of 60 per cent of all crops. It is therefore imperative that every possible means should be employed to check their ravages if the world is not to face starvation in the future.

The Livestock Situation

Los Angeles, July 19.—(Special to The Patagonian.)—This is vacation time and the time for a little recess from "shop" talk, so we want to speak about vacationing and visiting as a sideline. Many of the coast people are visiting the fresh water lakes, the great canyons and scenery of the great interior, while the folks from the great interior are coming down to the ocean for a change. In this way we find out what is being offered by the west and southwest, not only in scenery and pleasures but with a chance also of getting some idea of the economic setup.

Incidentally, this plan helps to distribute our money, but, more than that, it enables us to get acquainted, and it is the friendly thing to do. Friendship begets confidence, and confidence is the keystone of all business. The folks from the country are inclined to shy from the people of the city, largely due to the difference in environment and mannerisms, but, after all, there is no difference between the "folks" and the "people." Neither is there any difference between the good fiddler and the violinist. It all comes out of the same box, yet the distinction is made between the country and the city.

Along this line, as an important feature of the Christmas Livestock Week show to be held at Los Angeles December 3 to 8, I am recommending to those in charge of the affair that they hold a fiddler's convention, to be made up of men and women who have never played for money in an orchestra or any other musical organization, the idea being to make it an amateur affair. Out of those who come, bands may be formed to play in the afternoons during the week and wind up with an elimination contest offering a cash prize for the best fiddler, the second best fiddler and the third best fiddler.

No musical number written or composed later than 1900 may be played. We want to get back to where we were and then start fresh, so let's begin now to whet up the fiddle and bow and come prepared to play as you never played before.

There will be other old-time features at the show. Inquiry has been sent out to get together a good representation of the old longhorn steers, rapidly becoming obsolete, but through the able assistance of Uncle Sam, this type will be perpetuated as a relic of the early cow days of the southwest. Arrangements are also under way to have horseshoe pitching events and other old-fashioned specialties of this character, which should not only revive interest in amusements of this kind but should also prove very entertaining.

Plans are also under way to give us a picture of the early California vaqueros. It is only a few years ago when there wasn't much else but livestock in the southwest territory, and livestock has taken a very important place in settling up the great west. It is in evidence in all historical things of this country, so it seems fitting that attempts should be made at this time to revive as far as practicable the spirit prevailing in the olden days.

T. B. DAIRY CATTLE FEW

Phoenix, July 19.—The records in the office of the Livestock Sanitary Board and State Veterinarian show that the percentage of infection in tuberculosis eradication work is being steadily reduced and that with the splendid progress being made, it is very evident that within the near future the dairy cattle population of the state will be entirely free from tuberculosis. This fact is being recognized by purchasers of dairy cattle in many states of the union and especially by California buyers.

Phoenix, July 19.—Preliminary estimates of the acreage of Arizona crops have been released by the United States crop reporting board. Acreage figures relating to 10 of the principal crops are as follows: Cotton 200,000, all wheat 47,000, tame hay 183,000, oats 15,000, barley 16,000, grain sorghums 54,000, corn 40,000, white potatoes 3000, dry beans 8000, and sweet potatoes 1000.

What appears to be an upward tendency in crop acreages is not the result of expansion on established farms but is due to the development of new irrigation projects. From present indications this development will continue for several years.

The Reason Why We Do Not Hold Sales

If we conducted so-called "sales," with bewildering up-and-down shifting of prices—and "come early" for best choice—and disappointments because of "all sold out"—we could never give you the kind of Service you are entitled to and that we insist on giving.

It is our plan rather, to sell you Quality Goods only—priced as low as possible—from the day we buy the goods, but NEVER to buy goods for a Special Sale. And the indications are most convincing that our customers like our No-Sale Policy—our consistently Low Prices—our Day-In-and-Month-Out plan of Lowest Possible Prices every day in the year.

The average golfer walks about five miles in playing 18 holes.

The royal stable of England has won only two major turf events since 1909.

Golf is invading South and Latin America. A fine course has been constructed at Bogota, Colombia.

Penn State handed the University of Pittsburgh its only major sports defeat of the year in a recent track meet.

Gene Tunney says he thinks colleges and universities will supply many of our first-rate heavyweights in the future.

Not since Jack McAuliffe retired as undefeated lightweight champion in 1917 has an Irish-born fighter held this boxing title.

An eastern boxing writer says Gotham fans marveled at Sammy Mandell's "poise," evidently a New York word for "pounce."

One of Knute Rockne's football assistants this fall will be John "Clipper" Smith, who captained the 1927 eleven and played guard.

Judging by the attendance at the recent Emanuel-McTigue bout, the fever heat of the New York fans for boxers has considerably cooled.

Samuel M. Penock, former president of the Middle States Lawn Tennis association, has been appointed manager of the United States Davis Cup team.

The Penn State lacrosse team failed to win from a single college opponent this season. The best the Lions could do against a college team was a 4-to-4 tie with Syracuse.

Hans Hirschfeld, a German athlete, recently established a new world's record for putting the 16-pound shot in Breslau, Silesia. His mark is 15-790 meters, or approximately 51 feet 9 inches.

When played by the Indians years ago, the goals in lacrosse were placed miles apart, now they are 110 yards from each other. Where once the field had practically no side boundaries, it is now 70 yards.

The title of the most unsuccessful team of the United States goes to Up-sala college of East Orange, N. J., which has a record of no points scored in seven games and 285 points scored against it.

Penn State's opponents in football for next fall will be the same as in 1928, with one exception, Notre Dame returns to the schedule, replacing New York university on the 1927 schedule.

It is understood that Mr. Tunney has invited Professor Phelps to officiate at his next pugilistic party, but it does seem as if they might get harmoniously together somewhere, some time, for a study of the ring and the book.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

'Lesson'

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.) (©. 1928 Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for July 22 PAUL'S EARLY MINISTRY

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:19-20; 11:25, 26. GOLDEN TEXT—And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues that he is the Son of God.

1. Saul Preached Christ in Damascus

1. Saul's fellowship with the disciples (v. 19). After Saul was baptized he remained certain days with the believers in Damascus (v. 19). How beautiful to think of the transformation which took place—the one who was so passionately bent on their destruction was now enjoying fellowship with the disciples.

2. Straightway preaching in the synagogues (v. 20).

Saul, like every one who is really converted, begins to tell of the newly found Savior. As soon as he is saved he goes to save others.

3. The people amazed (v. 21).

They knew that the very one that had been the ringleader in persecuting the Christians in Jerusalem, and had come to Damascus for the express purpose of bringing them down to the chief priests, was now passionately advocating that which he had so vehemently sought to destroy.

4. The Jews confounded (v. 22).

Saul retired into Arabia for three years. During this time he was taught the full truths of his ministry.

II. Saul Escapes From the Jews (vv. 23-25).

He used the Scriptures with such skill that the Jews could not answer him. Finding that the argument was against them, the Jews took counsel how they might destroy Saul.

III. Saul Visits Jerusalem (vv. 26-29).

This journey to Jerusalem was in strange contrast with the one from Jerusalem to Damascus. The one was as a leader of an important expedition under the authority of the Jewish officers with the prospect of a place of distinction in the council of the Jewish nation.

1. Suspected by the disciples (v. 26).

The believers at Jerusalem had not heard fully about Saul's conversion. They knew nothing of his sojourn in Arabia, and his preaching at Damascus after his return. Therefore they regarded him as a spy.

2. Barnabas' confidence in Saul (v. 27).

Barnabas was a man filled with the Holy Spirit (Acts 11:24), therefore able to discern the reality of Saul's conversion. He was in reality a "Son of consolation" and in this instance showed his kind spirit.

3. Saul in fellowship with the disciples (v. 28).

They went in and out together. Peter received him in his home where he abode fifteen days (Gal. 1:18).

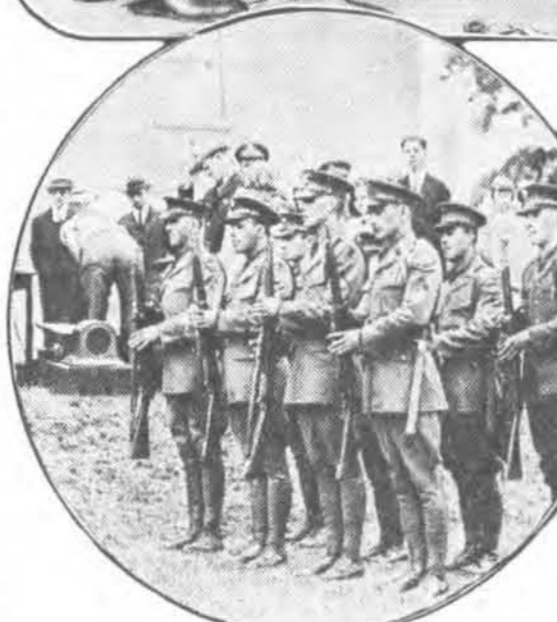

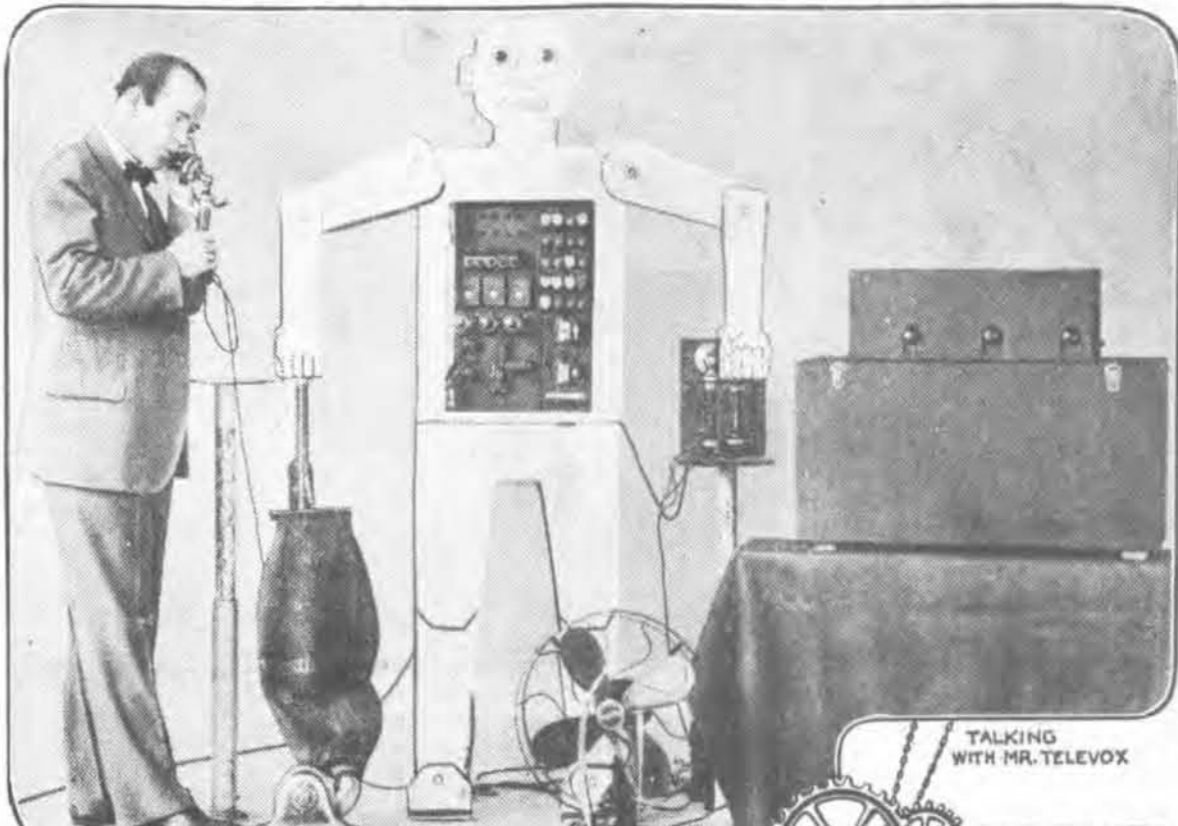

IV. Saul Sent to Tarsus (v. 30).

A conspiracy similar to that one at Damascus was formed against Saul. When the brethren knew of it they sent him to Tarsus. Saul's life was in danger everywhere except among the Gentiles. He now is back at the place of his birth.

V. Saul Teaching at Antioch (11:25, 26).

The work at Antioch prospered in the hands of Barnabas that he went to Tarsus for Saul to help him in the work. Saul returned with Barnabas and ministered for a whole year. The disciples were first called Christians at Antioch. This name resulted from Paul's teaching. Instead of being given in derision, as is frequently taught.

Meet Mr. Televox, the Mechanical Man!

MR. TELEVOX, THE DRILLMASTER

MR. TELEVOX'S LARYNX

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

HERE is an old story about a man who went to a circus, and when he saw a giraffe for the first time in his life, exclaimed: "There ain't no such animal."

A few years ago, if you had told the average American that there could be developed a mechanical "man" of steel and iron who could be told to perform certain tasks and would do them, his reply would probably be similar to the exclamation of the old fellow who saw his first giraffe.

When Mr. Wensley first brought his mechanical "man" into being, all that "he" could do was to obey certain commands to accomplish certain specified results. "He" could be called up on the telephone and would open and close switches and record the condition of instruments or mechanisms with which "he" was connected.

To give the mechanism means for emitting articulate speech of good quality, use is made of development in the "talking movie" industry. A piece of moving picture film about 15 or 20 feet long is spliced to make an endless loop. In the present model two sentences are spoken. These are photographed near the two edges of the standard film, the rest of it being left blank.

Early Coffee Houses

The first coffee house in London was established in 1652. Sir Henry Blunt is sometimes called the father of the English coffee houses. They were political institutions during the reign of the Stuarts. In 1675 Charles issued a proclamation for the suppression of them, but it was recalled ten days later. They became the meeting places of statesmen, wits, merchants, and fashionable idlers. They did much to quicken and enlarge the mental life of the town.

While the usefulness of "Mr. Televox" is at present restricted to operation in the field of telephony, this newest development has great significance. For, as Mr. Wensley says, "The addition of this automatic voice considerably broadens the possible field of application for the Televox. It is not limited to the speaking of the two sentences but may be made to answer quite a number of questions correctly when necessary for such answers has been determined in advance. For instance, where it is not desired to use code signals indicating the amount of water in the reservoir, this mechanism can be made to state the height of water in feet, or it can be made to say that machine is cool or a machine is hot, or a machine is dangerously hot. It can be made to report any sort of routine report that can be selected by electrical circuits."

Considering what has already been accomplished in the development of this automation, it would be a rash person indeed who would venture to predict now what the future limitations in other fields of usefulness for "Mr. Televox" and his "children" will be. For, more and more, we are learning how foolish is any declaration of "It can't be done!" when American inventive genius sets about to prove that it can, no matter what "it" may be.

Obedy Orders Strictly

"The new maid was not all that could be desired. 'Don't forget,' her mistress warned her before her first dinner party, 'coffee is served after everything!'"

"Yes, ma'am, I understand," replied the girl. And during dinner she served coffee after the soup, after the vegetable, after the meat and after the fish, as well as after the dessert.—Western Christian Advocate.

Each mind has its own method.
